Military Probe Pushed

'Flying Object' Pursued By Palestine Patrolman

By PAUL HUTCHMAN
Review Staff Writer

Military specialists today are continuing investigation of the origin of a brilliantly - lighted unidentified flying object that sailed across Columbiana County early Sunday morning, trailed at high speed by an East Palestine policeman and two Portage County sheriff's deputies, until it finally vanished in the vicinity of Pittsburgh.

The UFO first was reported in Summit County, but its course quickly led into Columbiana County and then eastward into Beaver County. The three officers kept it in sight until it vanished.

Patrolman Wayne Huston, 32, of 315 West St., East Palestine, was well on the way toward completing a routine tour of duty when he began receiving reports about 5:30 a. m. of the UFO on his cruiser radio from the two Portage deputies, Dale F. Spaur and W. L. Neff.

HUSTON, who has been a member of the East Palestine force for six and a half years, is a native of the East Liverpool area. He was born and raised in Calcutta. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Huston, still reside in the Substation area.

Huston realized that the object was heading eastward toward Columbiana County, after seeming to move along State Route 14, above which it had proceeded since first sighted by the Portage deputies east of Akron near the Route 224 intersection. He stepped out of his squad car and spotted it within a matter of minutes.

"The object was cone-shaped, with the pointed end down," he said. It was highly illuminated, without any individual lights. It was just one clear white light."

He estimated its largest measurement as approximately 35 feet from top to bottom. Huston recalled no accompanying sound whatever in the

Body Found After Blaze Near Newell

Francis McCabe Claimed In Fire At Gravel Firm

A 62-year-old Beaver man was found dead of an apparent heart attack this morning after battling a fire at the Iron City Sand & Gravel Corp. plant near the Koppers Co. plant in the Arroyo area, south of Newell.

Francis McCabe of 652 Bank St., Beaver, apparently had been fighting a fire which broke out in a trailer used as an office and a tool shed on the site, according to the Hancock County sheriff's department.

Ordinarily an engineman on the dredging equipment used by the company, Mr. McCabe was serving as a watchman on the midnight shift.

His body was discovered by E. R. Buffing of Imperial, an engineer, who reported for work shortly before 7.

There was no immediate estimate made on damage to the burned buildings.

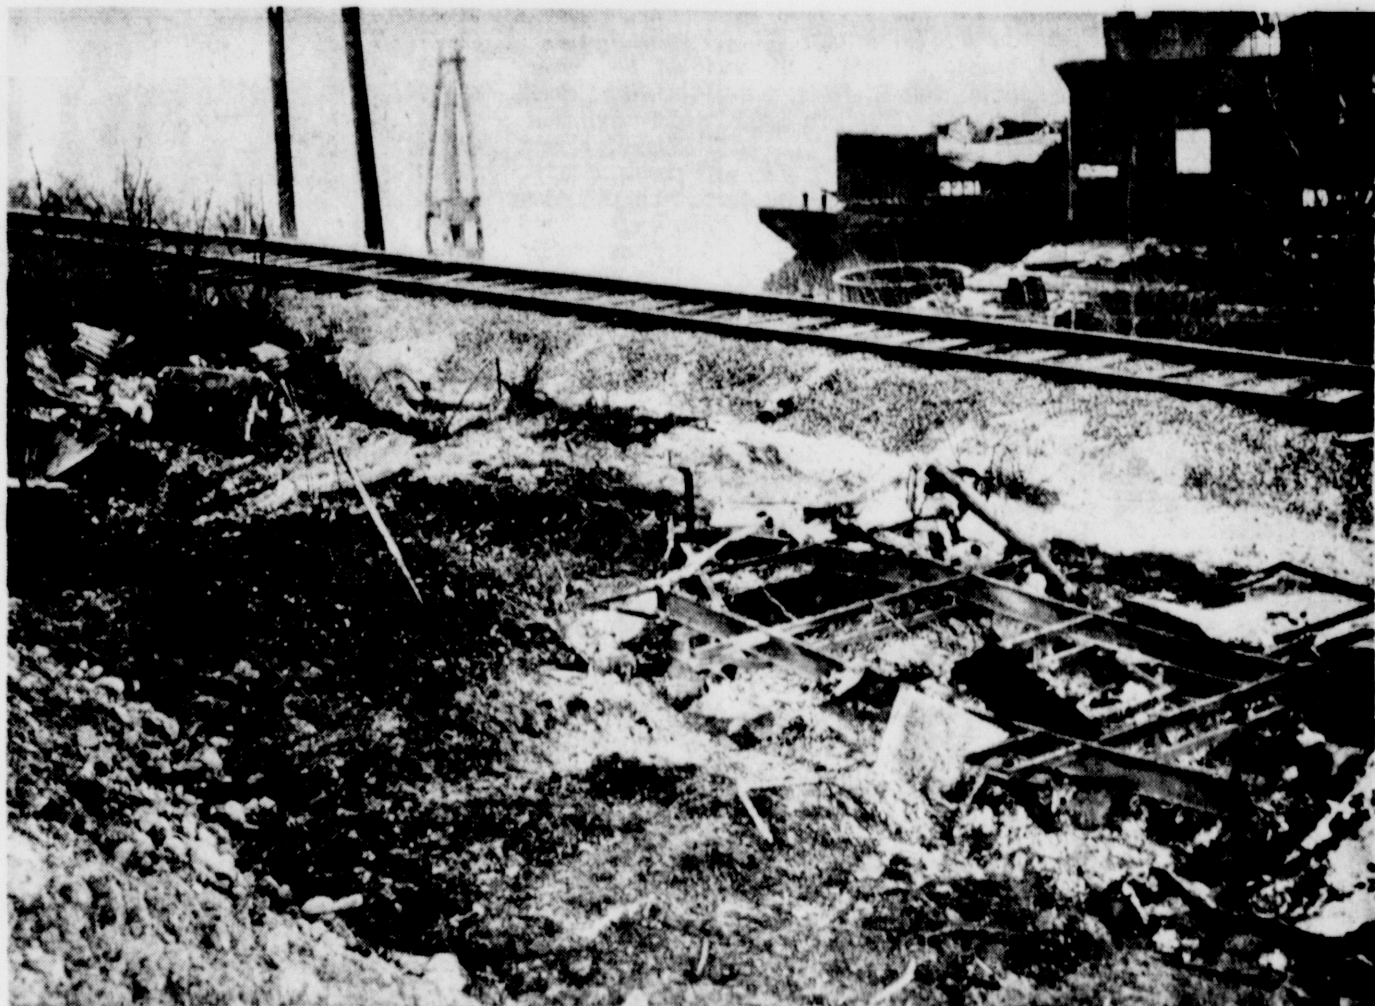

There was no evidence of foul play, according to the sheriff's office.

The body was taken to Arner's Funeral Chapel in Chester and was to be transferred to the Batchelor Funeral Home in Monaca.

Arrangements are incomplete.

'A Job To Do,' Smith Asserts

U.S. Should Remain In Viet Nam, Former Prisoner Of Reds Says

George E. Smith of Chester, a former Special Forces staff sergeant resting at home after more than two years as a prisoner of the Viet Cong, believes the United States should keep its forces in Viet Nam "until the job is done."

The former soldier, released from a jungle PW camp in December and discharged Friday after a long Army "debriefing" on Okinawa, faced a battery of reporters Saturday evening at the home of his mother, Mrs. Lucille Potts of 255 Carolina Ave.

"Personally, I believe we should stay in Viet Nam," the spare, 28-year-old veteran declared. "There is a job to be done there."

The former sergeant was discharged Friday at Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Ind., after the Army decided he should not have to be tried on charges of "aiding the enemy" during his captivity. Released at the same time at Ft. McClellan, Ala., was S. Sgt. Claude McClure of Chattanooga, Tenn., Smith's companion in captivity.

The two were taken prisoner of the North Viet Nam Reds on Nov. 19, 1963, and released last Dec. 19. They were at a base on Okinawa until late last week while Army authorities made an exhaustive investigation on charges against the two.

THE FORMER Chester sergeant declined to answer most questions about his captivity or his debriefing. The information was classified, he said. But he indicated he has no sympathy with so-called Vietnams, Americans demonstrating against the U. S. involvement in Viet Nam.

Queried about possible brainwashing by the Reds, he said: "I am not in as sound a mental condition today as I was in the past. . . I have developed quite a nervous condition."

Smith said he prayed frequently for his release from the Viet Cong camp, but he said he often felt he never would see his home again.

He said his plans for the future are indefinite. He said he has thought of further schooling, but for the immediate future he expects to rest at home and become reacquainted with his family and friends.

"At one time I thought of making the Army my career, but I don't think now that I am suitable for Army life," he said.

Smith was flanked by his mother in the interview in their modest home. Mrs. Potts said she prayed almost daily for her son's safe return. After his capture, the family was without word for months whether he was alive or dead.

The first indication that he was alive came months later when a Red - oriented Australian newspaperman visited a jungle

LBJ Electioneering?

Goldwater Sees 'Politics' In Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Barry Goldwater charged today President Johnson was playing politics with the Vietnamese war by trying to keep it at "a low level" to save Democratic seats in next fall's congressional elections.

"We're not exerting our full air power against the enemy, and I don't think that is playing fair with the men who are being drafted and the men who are being sent over to Viet Nam," Johnson's 1964 GOP presidential opponent said in a copyright interview in U. S. News and World Report.

Goldwater's volley came as Congress returns full force to face the Vietnamese political storm that broke during the Easter recess and as Secretary of State Dean Rusk faces the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

The big question: What now? In going before the Foreign Relations group, Rusk once again was facing the questions of a committee that has been a hotbed of congressional criticism of Johnson's Asian policies.

But chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said he didn't think "there will be any fireworks."

Another senior Democrat, Sen. John J. Sparkman of Alabama expressed belief the committee could discuss the situation with Rusk — and with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara Wednesday — "and not cause an explosion."

The committee's mood, said Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., may depend on Rusk — "to the extent he is frank with us. There is no use kidding ourselves, we are in trouble. We can't correct a problem by ignoring it."

The reason for Rusk's and McNamara's appearances before the committee is to support the administration's foreign aid requests. The hearings are to be televised nationally.

Goldwater expressed doubt the United States was doing all it could to "insure the stability in Saigon."

"The new civil disturbances over there — especially the demonstrations — I've looked upon as Communist inspired. . . If it keeps on as continuing

Rusk Reports Viet Elections Move Nearer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk told senators today the result of political turmoil in Viet Nam has been to "speed up the time table" for elections in that troubled country.

Rusk, the first Cabinet officer to be questioned in public by senators since the drive for elections broke out in Viet Nam during congress's Easter recess, said he understood the election of a constitution-making assembly will be held in August.

"It has been apparent throughout these recent discussions that there is general agreement among all of the participants that they reject the Viet Cong and the efforts of Hanoi to impose a political solution upon the South by force," said Rusk. He added:

"It is important of course that these political processes proceed on the basis of solidarity on the eventual aims with respect to South Viet Nam even though, as we ourselves learn, the construction of a basic constitutional arrangement is a complicated and difficult matter."

Jets Pound Missile Sites Near Hanoi

Bridges Destroyed In Closest Raid Yet To North's Capital

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Air Force jets smashed two Soviet-built missile sites on the outskirts of Hanoi in the closest raid yet to the North Vietnamese capital and left two key bridges in ruins, U.S. spokesmen reported today.

Another group of Navy fighter-bombers set off a huge explosion at a suspected missile site 27 miles south of the coastal city of Vinh, 160 miles south of Hanoi, silenced seven nearby anti-aircraft batteries and sank a junk.

Led by target-marking F100 Super Sabre jets in clear afternoon skies, a pack of Air Force supersonic F105 Thunderchiefs began the raid around Hanoi Sunday by hurling 750-pound bombs at a bridge 33 miles south of the capital on the road to the chief port of Haiphong.

The span was put out of commission, a spokesman said.

The jets then moved closer to the capital blasting a missile site 15 miles south of the city and another 17 miles southwest with rockets and 20mm cannon fire. A huge explosion rocked one of the missile complexes, a pilot reported. The airman spotted rockets on the launching pads just before they roared in but only one missile was set up. It missed.

Showers To Continue For District Tuesday

Occasional showers will persist in the area tonight and Tuesday, the Ohio weatherman said.

Today's high will be in the 60's and the low tonight will be 45-50. Tuesday will be cloudy with scattered showers and continued warm weather. The high will range between 62 and 69.

The mercury hit an overnight low of 47 at 5 a. m. in the downtown area. It was 42 at the same time in the suburbs.

Youth's Sight Periled After Injury By BB

A 14-year-old youth may lose the use of his right eye after being struck Saturday night by a BB pellet apparently fired by some boys in a passing auto.

James Swogger, son of Carl F. Swogger of 711 Morton St., was in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital. However, physicians doubted whether the sight in his right eye can be saved because of the nature of the wound.

The Westgate eighth grader along with Terry Hoffman, 1325 Smithfield St. and Jeff Michaels 1249 St. Clair Ave., were walking west on McKinnon Ave. near St. Clair Ave. when young Swogger felt something strike him in the right eye.

The three went to the North Side Fire Station, where Fireman Russell Dray applied cold compresses to the eye and police were summoned to take Swogger to the hospital.

Patrolman S. E. Hayes said the boy was bleeding from the right eye. Examination showed the pellet lodged in the eye. One report indicated the pellet was imbedded in the pupil.

The youths told Officer Hays that they noticed an old auto with several young boys in it passing at the time and believed the BB may have been fired from the car.

Soviet Slogans Show New Warmth To West

MOSCOW (AP) — The West gets friendlier greetings and Red China is demoted in the Soviet Union's new May Day slogans, which are watched each year for signs of policy change.

Britain, France and the United States, formerly lumped together in a single slogan, got separate greetings this year. A new slogan was added urging the strengthening of peace and security in Europe.

The slogan on Red China was dropped from the top of those for Communist countries to number five. Last May Day's reference to "eternal, unbreakable friendship," with Peking was omitted.

Aref Chosen Iraq Leader, Nation Quiet

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP) — Prospects for a power struggle in Iraq appeared to subside today after Maj. Gen. Abdel Rahman Aref, the army chief of staff, was named to succeed his dead brother as president.

Rahman Aref was chosen by the Cabinet and Defense Council at a midnight meeting Saturday eight hours after the state funeral for President Abdel Salam Aref, killed in a helicopter crash last Wednesday.

The vote for Rahman Aref was reported to have been unanimous which would contribute much toward stability of the new regime. The Defense Council includes Iraq's top military leaders.

Rahman Aref's selection was followed by an easing of the curfew imposed after his brother's death. Baghdad radio began reading telegrams of support from military posts throughout Iraq.

Aref's death had raised the prospect of bitter political infighting and perhaps worse over who would succeed him. Since he was named president by the military in 1963, Aref had maintained a precarious dominance over feuding political and religious factions.

Lavish Stage Setting

'Oscar' Awards Feature Lynda Bird And Color TV

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Ending two months' suspense for nominees and fans, the movie academy presents its 38th annual Oscar awards tonight for —An auditorium audience of 2,800 including Lynda Bird Johnson and her beau, actor George Hamilton.

—Coast-to-coast television viewers seeing it for the first time in color.

The stage setting at the Santa Monica Civic Auditorium is described as one of the most lavish yet. It features two dozen fountains and pools.

An aide says the academy has taken out $5 million insurance, at a cost of $6,000, against the possibility of the temporary plumbing springing a slippery leak.

"Suppose Bob Hope or Cyd Charisse slipped, fell and couldn't work," he shuddered.

Miss Charisse will dance. Quipmaster Hope will preside over the ceremonies for the 12th time.

The two-hour show goes on at 10 p.m. EST over the ABC radio and television networks.

Hamilton will escort the President's 22-year-old daughter to the auditorium and with Patty Duke will present the award for achievement in sound. After the ceremonies he will take Miss Johnson to the Oscar Ball for 1-500 at the Beverly Hilton Hotel. Occupying an adjoining table will be two Secret Service men.

Since the nominations were announced Feb. 21, the academy's voting membership of some 2,800 has picked winners by secret ballot. Results are an accounting firm's closely guarded secret.

The favorites? A veteran, close observer of the Hollywood scene says speculation runs like this:

"The Sound of Music" as best picture and Rod Steiger, 'The Pawnbroker,' as best actor.

Many Miners Resume Jobs As Talks Begin

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Thousands of miners return to work today as negotiations resume to end the nation's largest soft coal strike in 15 years.

More than 50,000 men were idled for the past week while the United Mine Workers and the Bituminous Coal Operators Association remained at odds in Washington over a new contract. An estimated 19,000 were still off the job today.

Oil Arrives In Rhodesia Despite Ban

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — The British campaign to keep the tankers Manuela and Ioanna V from delivering oil to Rhodesia made big headlines, but the rebellious African colony is still getting more oil each month overland than either ship carried, a South African newspaper reported today.

Johannesburg's Rand Daily Mail said the flow of oil from South Africa to Rhodesia averages between 140,000 and 160,000 gallons daily — double the amount required under current rationing quotas.

The newspaper gave this report:

A survey last week showed that each day at least 45,000 gallons were shipped by trucks and

In Weekend Mishaps

Car Crash Hurts East End Woman

A 47-year-old East End woman was injured Sunday afternoon when her auto went over an embankment on Park Blvd. after being struck by another car.

Mrs. Margaret Jane Morrow of 526 Martin St. was taken to City Hospital by her son after the mishap at 4:43 p. m. yesterday.

Mrs. Morrow was released after being X-rayed for chest injuries received when she struck the steering wheel.

Police were told Mrs. Morrow was headed west on Park Blvd. when her 1964 auto was struck by a 1964 station wagon operated by Mrs. Shirley Mae Green, 31, of Elysian Way, who came out of a driveway.

The Morrow auto struck some bushes and a tree on the Ann Bell property, police said.

MRS. MORROW said she saw the other auto in the driveway but thought the driver would wait. As she passed, Mrs. Green pulled out and the auto hit the left rear of her car, causing it to go over the hill, she said.

Mrs. Green said she had halted to see if any children were playing and thought she had sufficient time to pull out.

Four other wrecks were reported by police Saturday.

A collision at 12:25 p. m. on Walnut St. north of Bradshaw Ave. damaged cars operated by Charles S. Mackall, 51, of 501 Harker Ave., Newell, who was headed north, and a car driven by Roy Edward McLain, 30, of 218 Union St. and owned by Betty J. Stiteler of Falls Church, Va.

Mackall said he was coming out of a garage and turning north. Another motorist halted and signaled him out but as he crossed the line of traffic he collided with the McLain car.

Because both drivers were in compacts, it was difficult for them to see each other, police noted.

CARS operated by Cornelius M. Tarver, 49, of 2132 Pennsylvania Ave. Ext. and Kyle Alvin Pridemore, 56, of 1711 Park Ave., were involved in a crash at 3:19 p. m. at Pennsylvania Ave. and Sylvan St.

Police said Pridemore had halted and was struck in the rear by the Tarver car.

A mishap at 11:35 a. m. on Walnut St. near E. 4th St. damaged a parked 1966 auto owned by Mike Turk, Inc.

Police said both cars were parked when the unknown driver backed into the front end of the new car and then drove away. Officers said the other car was registered to an Oakdale man.

A 16-year-old Lisbon youth was cited for failing to yield the right-of-way after a crash Saturday morning at College and E. 4th Sts.

Police cited Coleman Jay Poynter of Lisbon R. D. 1 after his auto struck a southbound car driven by Glenn F. Harpold, 44, of Allen Ave.

brief time that he was outside of the squad car. He judged the altitude of the UFO as being originally between 800 and 900 feet.

AS HE studied the rapidly approaching light, Huston could detect no apparent moving parts or means of propulsion. "There were no particular features, although at one time it appeared that there may have been an antenna on one side," he said.

As the light came overhead, the speeding sheriff's cruiser occupied by Spaur and Neff shot by Huston, who was alone, jumped in his car and joined in the pursuit.

The patrolman estimated that the speed of the white object varied from 80 to 105 miles per hour.

"Most of the time, it seemed to travel between 1,000 and 2,000 feet," he said. "We lost it one time, when it went down behind a hill. It seemed to be waiting, or playing games. It changed altitude with a very distinct movement."

DO YOU TAKE VITAMINS AND STILL FEEL TIRED?*

If you take vitamins, yet still feel tired—you may need more than vitamins to restore your normal strength and energy. That's because your worn-out feeling may be due to iron-poor, tired blood.

Vitamins alone can't build up iron-poor blood. But GERITOL can! That's because GERITOL not only contains 7 vitamins but, in addition, supplies the amount of iron needed to build iron-rich red blood. Just 2 GERITOL tablets, or 2 tablespoons of GERITOL liquid, contain twice the iron in a pound of calf's liver! Seven times the iron in a pound of spinach! In only one day, GERITOL-iron is in your bloodstream carrying strength and energy to every part of your body!

Proved By Medical Tests! Patients diagnosed with iron-deficiency were often pale, nervous, and easily tired. After patients took GERITOL daily, doctors reported definite clinical improvement.

Check with your doctor. If iron-poor blood is making you tired, take GERITOL. Feel stronger fast—in 7 days—or money back from GERITOL.

I saw it last about 6:30. It was daylight then, but it was just as visible. The other officers told me it lit up the roadway at one time before dawn, and that it was bright enough to drive without headlights."

WHEN THE officers finally left, the object still was hovering north of the Pittsburgh Airport, in the direction of Pittsburgh, Huston recalled.

Huston had never observed anything similar in the past, and did not care to offer any theories about what he saw Sunday morning. He commented: "I never thought too much about these UFO reports before—but now I don't know."

"At first everyone thought it was a big joke. It was called in to the Summit County sheriff's office by some lady. The call was then relayed to Portage County."

Numerous other persons seeing what was presumably the same object had phoned authorities.

According to Huston, the UFO had no effect on the operation of the cars, as has been the case in encounters with similar glowing objects, when the motor and electrical system allegedly ceased to function.

Huston is married and has two children. He spent two years in the Army, from 1956-58. He graduated from East Liverpool High School in 1951, moving two years later to East Palestine.

Three other flights of Thunderchiefs struck the main railroad bridge between Hanoi and Vinh with 750-pound bombs, leaving it completely "sagged, twisted and definitely unserviceable," a spokesman said. The bridge was hit last November but had been rebuilt, he said.

The loss of five more U.S. planes in the past three days raised the number brought down in the 15-month-old air war against North Vietnam to 210. But only two fliers were reported lost over the weekend.

An A1H Navy Skyraider was lost to conventional ground fire this afternoon three miles south of Tiger Island and just north of the 17th Parallel frontier. The pilot was rescued by helicopter after ejecting.

Although no American planes were reported lost in the attacks around Hanoi, other heavy air strikes Sunday near Vinh and Dong Hoi cost three planes. Helicopters rescued all five crewmen.

A spokesman also said that an Air Force F4C Phantom jet hit Saturday by anti-aircraft fire near Dong Hoi, 250 miles south of Hanoi, had been given up as lost. Its two crewmen were listed as missing in action.

Over the south, Air Force B52s assaulted a suspected Viet Cong marshalling point at noon today 65 miles northwest of Saigon near the Cambodian border.

On the political front, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's hold on the reins of government was strengthened by a declaration from the country's most mili-

Abdel Rehman Bazzaz offered to resign Sunday, but this is a routine formality. The Cabinet is expected to stay in office, but appointments must be made to replace two ministers killed with the president.

Rahman Aref was named by his brother to run the army in February 1963 after a revolution overthrew dictator Abdel Kerim Kassem. He confined himself to mostly military matters, exhibited no particular political leanings and was not considered a member of the inner circle of officers who under the leadership of Kassem and Salam Aref overthrew the pro-Western monarchy in 1958.

civil war, then I think we're in a very bad fix," Goldwater said.

The lack of a stable government in Saigon is one reason, Goldwater said, why the United States isn't making more progress in Viet Nam.

A second reason, he said, is "because we're not making military judgments based upon military needs and military strategy. We're making judgments based upon domestic political needs."

Goldwater said "it's an open secret in Washington" that the Joint Chiefs of Staff want to bomb petroleum dumps around the port of Haiphong.

But, he continued, Johnson wants "to keep the war at a low level to save as many members of his Congress as he can. Historically the President must expect quite a loss for the 'in' party in November ... whether there was a war or not. If you throw a war in, his losses could be very large."

Goldwater contended Johnson was trying to please both hawks and doves, declaring: "He's bombing—but he's not bombing. In other words he's riding down the middle because of the domestic political situation."

The quickest way to win the war, Goldwater said, "is to use the power you have—and we have the power."

Another call for the use of more power came from Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate Preparedness Subcommittee.

"We have not yet hit with sufficient military strength and power ... to win. We cannot win by this policy of holding back," Stennis said on the ABC radio-television show "Issues and Answers."

between the two Julies. Andrews, "Sound of Music," won last year for "Mary Poppins," which I suppose hurts her chances a little. There's a lot of sentiment for Christie, "Darling."

"Bob Wise, 'Sound of Music,' could win for directing. Among supporting players the sentiment seems to be for Ruth Gordon, 'Inside Daisy Clover,' and Tom Courtenay, 'Dr. Zhivago.'"

100,000 gallons by rail. An unidentified oil company official said oil firms favored the cheaper rail routes from Lourenco Marques, in Portuguese Mozambique.

Most of the truck hauling is now done by an unnamed American oil company and South African agents. The Portuguese are supplying about 10 per cent of the fuel shipped by rail.

The Greek tanker Manuela, carrying 15,000 tons of crude oil originally destined for Rhodesia, was reported Sunday heading for Rotterdam after five days in Durban, South Africa.

The Manuela was turned away from the Mozambique port of Beira by a British naval boarding party April 10 under a U.N. Security Council resolution authorizing Britain to use force against tankers trying to put into Mozambique to evade the British oil embargo against Rhodesia.

A pipe line runs from Beira to the colony whose white minority rulers defied Britain and seized independence last November to preserve white rule.

Reports from Beira said the Manuela's sister ship the Ioanna V was expected to sail from Beira May 6 without unloading its 18,000 tons of oil.

Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith announced Saturday that his regime had called off attempts to have oil from the Ioanna V pumped to Rhodesia from Beira.

Political Bid Planned By Adams Descendant

BOSTON (AP) — Thomas B. Adams, a descendant of the presidential Adams family, has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate.

Adams, a newcomer to politics is a retired business man, and a noted author and lecturer. He said he agreed to become a candidate if friends could raise the $100,000 for a campaign. They did.

Safety Goes With Boating

Another boating season is close at hand and with it will go responsibility as well as pleasure. Boaters, like drivers of automobiles, have laws which they must observe in the interest of their own safety and the safety of others. Violations of federal laws for waterways can lead to fines for both the owner and the operator of a boat. Most are administrative violations calling for fines of $100.

Comdr. Leonard M. Unterein, head of the Coast Guard station at Pittsburgh, points up the constant need for alertness on behalf of the boater in a reminder of hazards such as dams, lock walls, shallow channels and the increasing number of pleasure boats that will be taking advantage of the waters of the Ohio and other district rivers and lakes.

"On the average," he reports, "there are a dozen accidents a year in which boats shoot over dams and about 20 reported collision accidents. Also there are drownings caused mostly by capsizing and people falling over the side without life preservers."

"Some boaters act as if they don't even know safety rules exist. They think they can go where they feel like going or turn where they feel like turning."

Each boater, he suggests, should have a chart for the area where they are operating. These may be obtained from the U.S. Corps of Engineers for this district or from private boating informational sources.

Visit Your Library

This is National Library Week. "Weeks" have grown to the point where most merit little attention and can be dismissed with a shrug. Too often they are merely the brain-child of a public relations man.

National Library Week does not fall into this category, however. It is as genuine as any "week" could be, serving to focus attention on one of a community's most valued assets—a good library.

The complex libraries of today do more than check out and check in books. They perform various related services — the providing of film strips, the conducting of story hours for children, the offering of comprehensive research services, etc.

Carnegie Public Library here and other efficiently-operated libraries in the area are at your service. Take advantage of their facilities not only during library week but during the other 51 weeks of the year.

No Responsibility, No License

A Cuyahoga County candidate for the Ohio Senate, Alfred C. Grisanti, is the latest to join the movement to rid Ohio highways of irresponsible drivers.

He proposes to charge auto owners who have no insurance a premium rate for their license plates and create a public fund with the extra money to compensate victims of financially irresponsible motorists.

This would get around the compulsory insurance. The companies claim this would cause their rates to rise unreasonably for all motorists and have the effect of making safe drivers pay for unsafe drivers.

If all applicants for vehicle registration then could be made to produce a driver's license along with proof of insurance, the ultimate effect would be to clear Ohio roads of chronic menaces.

However the job is going to be done in its entirety, the chronic menaces must be brought under control. They should be forbidden to own or operate a car under any circumstances, once they have proved their incompetence with an ever-lengthening list of violations and accidents.

The General Assembly has a special commission at work on this problem, with a view to widening the margin of security for drivers who try to be safe, who are financially responsible for whatever accidents they may be involved in and who are increasingly resentful of lenient court judgments against scofflaws, drunks and psychopaths threatening to turn the automobile era into a shambles.

It would be unthinkable to turn such people loose to threaten public safety in airplanes, and it is unthinkable to have them ramming and roaring over congested highways. Instead of talking about schemes to make autos safer, all legislators should be concentrating on down-to-earth plans for getting rid of chronic accident-causers, starting with goons whose driving rights have been suspended yet drive cars anyway, in defiance of the law.

Their wheels should be taken away when their licenses are lifted.

Decision Time

A decision such as that facing the Ohio Board of Regents relative to a program of higher education for Columbiana County isn't an easy one.

It hinges on a thorough presentation of vital data and on a careful evaluation of these facts.

We feel the presentation has been made both on behalf of the proposed community college and the expansion of the already-existing Kent State branches.

Much continued planning and much hard work lies ahead regardless of which educational facility finally receives the approval of the regents. Those backing the rival proposals find their hands tied at present because of the delay at Columbus. Their programs cannot be advanced so long as the present uncertainty exists.

The regents would be wise to eliminate this uncertainty by coming up with a decision at their May 20 meeting.

amendment by talking about what the "people" want. The best argument for his proposed amendment is the belief that people in the mass are not necessarily the best judges of sound public practice.

Back Home

While the present homecoming is a happy occasion, trying days could lie ahead for George E. Smith of Chester, who has received his discharge from the Army after a harrowing experience as a prisoner of war of the Viet Cong.

People being what they are, it can be assumed questions will be asked — some irritating, some asinine and others downright boring. Though the Army had dropped charges of aiding the enemy because of insufficient evidence, Mr. Smith can be sure there are those who have made up their own minds as to whether he did or he didn't. It's possible some inconsiderate, nasty remarks could be in the offing. The period of readjustment for the former Chester soldier may prove difficult.

While still somewhat reluctant to discuss the ordeal to which he was subjected, Mr. Smith did make this pertinent remark when talking with newsmen:

"I don't want anything to do with these people (the Vietnam peace demonstrators). I feel we should stay in Viet Nam until the job is done."

The words speak for themselves. George Smith is home, happy and reunited with his mother. It would be a shame should things be distorted all out of proportion by gossip-mongers.

A Place To Be Seen

It makes no sense in the cultural hinterlands that sentimentalists are trying to save the Metropolitan Opera Company's traditional home when the company moves to a new home on Lincoln Center. Yet it is easy to understand the sentimentality.

The building was the scene of one of the bright chapters of culture — the chapter in which opera finally was pried out of the clutches of financial snobbery and turned over to the kind of people who loved it for the sake of the art it embodied.

Boxes were sold for as much as $200,000 to people who wanted to be seen in them. The price has gone down now; tickets for the last performance of the opera company in the old building have been selling at only $200. This is still a far cry from the original concept of opera as popular amusement, but so is present-day musical comedy for which tickets may cost as much as $20.

In any case, the new home of the opera will be so large it cannot really be thought of as exclusive. Opera is never going to be universally popular in the United States, but it has outgrown the exclusivity of the Diamond Horseshoe. The Metropolitan these days even turns into a road show for the benefit of the culturally deprived in places far from New York City.

Odd Facts

The cost of today's superhighways, which ranges from $350,000 to $1 million a mile, is not so much out of line when you consider the cost of the famed Appian Way, built by the ancient Romans and still in use in Italy today — the equivalent of $300,000 a mile.

The average annual cost of attending a private American college has jumped 66 per cent during the past 10 years.

Synthetic rubber accounted for 74.4 per cent of the total U. S. rubber consumption last year.

Jersey Pipeline Probe Bared

By Victor Riesel

WASHINGTON

This usually loose-tongued community certainly can keep a secret.

For some 15 months now, the Justice Department covertly has been investigating a network of unions, whose members worked on a multi-million dollar, 1,500 mile project.

Though top drawer, it would still be a locked-door probe if a burly union chief with a distinct distaste for "eggheads" had not opened his mouth.

The highly dejected union man is the 225-lb., 6-foot 2, ex-prizefighter, Peter Weber. He is head of the now famous Operating Engineers' Local 825, maker of congressmen, supporter of legislators, and bargainer for men who work on several billion dollars' worth of construction yearly.

MR. WEBER, LOCAL PRESIDENT and business manager, is the gentleman who recently demanded a $54-a-week raise per man and got into a row with the White House. Then he did the utterly unheard-of thing — he retreated from his position and agreed to enter into a series of binding arbitration conferences with Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz and State Labor Commissioner Raymond Male.

Since this set a national precedent for labor and management relations in the $60 billion building and construction industry, it was only natural for this columnist to visit Mr. Weber's home city, Newark, N.J., for the background story.

There I discovered that a Federal Grand Jury has been sitting since February. It was authorized by Attorney General Nicholas Katzenbach and is being directed by U. S. Attorney Dave Satz — both extremely tight-lipped men.

Apparently, however, the Peter Weber-Council of Economic Advisers feud is in no way related to the comparatively new Grand Jury, though it is looking into some building and construction trade unions in the general area.

IT'S CONCERNED with the construction of a 1,500-mile oil pipe line which runs from Texas to Linden, N. J.

There, not far from the Newark airport, is one of the world's largest concentration of refineries. They belong to huge and internationally famous oil companies.

The line has been completed. But there have been protests from reputable — and influential — businessmen over the excessive costs involved.

Though the line runs across several states, the cost in northern New Jersey reportedly not only is higher than the price paid for laying pipe in other areas with similar terrain and problems, but higher than almost anywhere in the world.

Though the Grand Jury has just begun to hear witnesses and examine evidence in the Federal Building in Newark, the Justice Department probe was started back in Jan., 1965. The attorney general, presumably availing himself of crack FBI agents, has for more than a year gone along the entire line seeking evidence of charges of violation of federal criminal statutes.

ONLY THE "AG" and a few of his colleagues know what was discovered. But neither they nor U.S. Atty. Satz would have impaneled a Grand Jury if they did not believe they had reason to expect some action from it.

In all fairness, it should be pointed out that the government inquiry has not been impeded by the national building and construction trade union leaders. Truth is that the national labor elders no longer have the power to crack down on the local baronies.

They could issue statements, yes. But they can move into the constituencies only with the kind of evidence the FBI and the Justice Department or Grand Juries can obtain under subpoenas.

FEW REGIONS in the land are as vital as northern New Jersey is to the nation's economic-industrial complex.

Everything is being built there, from atomic plants to speedy highways. And construction unions everywhere look to this sector to set the pace of pay raises, the pattern of work rules and the latest fashions in bargaining.

It all would have been a well-kept secret if some of us had not been attracted to the area by all the noise and denunciations.

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

Several weeks ago a list of schools in Columbiana County, where immunization clinics were being held, was published in the paper. East Liverpool was not included in the list.

I am grateful for a wonderful family doctor. I am thankful that we were able to afford the "shots" for our children.

When the cost is $4 and $6 for each shot, how do the low-income families in East Liverpool afford this? I was told that the medicine is furnished by the state, but the reason (or one of the reasons) that East Liverpool does not have a clinic is because there is no doctor to help operate one. I can understand that our doctors are very busy and that their time is valuable.

In other states where I have lived the county nurse gave the shots and vaccinations.

Maybe a person could get a vaccination or a shot at the Board of Health office or from the Public Health Nurse, but I wonder if it requires pleading for welfare aid.

I called the Board of Health office and asked about the clinics being held in other communities in the county. I explained that my oldest child needed a vaccination before September. The first question that I was asked was, "Can you afford to take her to the doctor?"

Everyone should be entitled to the immunization if it is a state or county service no matter what their income is.

Judicial Change

By David Lawrence

Poll Shows Revision Sentiment

The American people know very little about how judges are appointed but they do know that there is something wrong with the system. A Gallup Poll just published reveals that 61 per cent of the persons interviewed are in favor of letting the American Bar Association draw up a list of approved candidates and submit them to the president to take his pick. Certainly the poll revealed dissatisfaction with the present method by which judges are selected.

The American Bar Association Journal reports that, ever David Lawrence since the Cleveland administration, no president has made less than 82 per cent of judicial appointments from the ranks of his own party.

The record shows that President Roosevelt filled federal district judgeships with 138 Democrats and two Republicans. For the court of appeals, he named 50 Democrats and four Republicans.

President Truman appointed 116 Democrats and nine Republicans to both district and appeals courts.

President Eisenhower appointed 165 Republicans and nine Democrats to the federal bench.

President Kennedy nominated 100 Democrats and eight Republicans.

President Johnson thus far has nominated 44 Democrats and two Republicans to be judges on district or appellate courts.

THE INFERENCE that a president of the United States is himself governed by political considerations is only partly true. Members of the Senate of the United States are really responsible for the political partisanship which has been manifested for many years. There are stories going around Washington about cases in which the two senators from the opposite party in a state refused to approve a particular appointment the president made and blocked the confirmation for two years.

There is no reason why senators should, in effect, select federal judges. In too many instances judgeships have been the reward for service rendered to a political party. The idea that the very best man with a background of judicial experience should be preferred in a district over someone who has never sat on the bench is not new.

Federal judges wield enormous power. The fact that a man is nominated for the bench who has been active in party politics might or might not be a factor in the kind of decisions he subsequently renders.

Certainly eyebrows are arched and suspicions are generated when an active politician becomes a federal judge, passes upon questions related to governmental policy and, in certain cases, seems to side with the administration which brought about his appointment. Such inferences may not always be correct, but they persist.

THE AMERICAN PEOPLE for many years have seemed to be indifferent to the way judges are appointed to the bench. Some of the appointees, it's true, rise above their previous political backgrounds and make fair and impartial judges. Even with the best of intentions, many of them do not do an adequate job for the simple reason that they have not had judicial experience.

It would seem logical if men who aspired to be federal court judges would first serve on municipal or county courts or state supreme courts. Persons who want to become judges do not have to follow that route because the political habit of today is to pick for the federal bench mostly men who have not had a single day's experience as judges.

The Gallup Poll has served a constructive purpose in bringing out the fact that the American people do not like the existing arrangement and that they frown upon the use of federal judgeships as a political prize or as a reward for service to particular nominees in public office.

THERE ARE, moreover, some other objectionable phases of the present system of choosing judges. Many a federal judge realizes that his own promotion to a higher court depends entirely on the attorney general, who, of course, is the chief litigant in federal courts.

This situation has been denounced as fundamentally unsound by prominent lawyers, many of whom have expressed themselves in bar association meetings. They have declared that no judge should be placed in the position of either attempting to curry favor with the attorney general or of being suspected of doing so.

Hospital Treats 30 From District

Thirty persons injured in various mishaps over the weekend were treated at City Hospital. Twelve were hurt Saturday and 18 Sunday.

Those treated Sunday included Bill Dillinger of Akron, who cut his hand and finger on a broken glass at an area night club.

Donald H. Grimm of Midland Heights, Midland, suffered a contusion of the right hand in a fall.

William Williams, son of Louis Williams of 1049 Monaca St., suffered a laceration of the head when a rock fell on him.

David Lawrence, son of Jack Lawrence of 1617 Chester Ave., Wellsville, fell while playing, cutting his mouth.

Penny Miller, daughter of Paul Miller of Myler Rd., was bitten on the ear by her pet dog.

David Gloeckner of McDonald St. suffered an injury of the left eye when a refrigerator slipped and fell on him.

William Floyd Brooks of Georgetown R. D. 1 suffered fractures of the right ribs when a log rolled from a truck and hit him.

DOUGLAS Maple, son of Verne Maple of Glenmoor, was bitten by a dog on the face and right hand.

Robert James Walker, son of George Walker of Hookstown R. D. 1, fell from a motorized cart, suffering brush burns of the left hand, knee and elbow.

Edward George Zelasko, son of Nick Zelasko of 1142 Main St., Wellsville, twisted his left ankle when he stepped into a hole.

Wellsville Ends Repair Of Valve

A valve on a 4-inch water main in Wellsville was installed Saturday night and full water pressure was restored in two hours.

Safety - Service Director Fred Baldasare said the work was started at 9 p. m. and the valve was installed by 10:30. Thirty minutes later the pressure was back to normal.

The pressure was not completely shut off as originally planned. Instead, the pressure was reduced enough to allow the men to cut into the main and install the valve. Pumps were used to drain the water from the excavation while the men worked.

The valve was installed below a fire hydrant on 2nd St. A new hydrant was being installed today. The city has been installing valves below hydrants as they are replaced. The old hydrant was not operating properly.

By working the line under pressure, some parts of the city never were without water, the director said.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Folks: You know all those buttons we rip off stuff before we discard it and you know that old sewing box you have with cards and cards of buttons in it? Those cardboard take up space. . . . Let me tell you what to do.

I cleaned out my sewing box the other day, and the best thing I have ever found (and the least expensive yet) is those plastic sandwich bags.

When you clean out your sewing box the next time and you're watching TV, put that box of plastic sandwich bags in your lap and your sewing box on your knees. Then weed out that button box.

Throw buttons of different types into separate bags, twist the tops shut or fold them over neatly and fasten with rubber bands.

You'll have the neatest sewing box ever. Furthermore, you will be able to see, at a glance, what color, size and type of button you want.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I've finally found a way to stuff a turkey, or any fowl, without having a slippery, sliding battle with the critter!

I get out a big mixing bowl and upend the bird (neck end down) in the bowl, then proceed to stuff it.

Works wonderfully and is far faster, easier and less messy than other methods I have tried.

CHARLENE BLACK.

LETTER OF THOUGHT

DEAR HELOISE: May your house always be too small to hold all of your friends.

GEORGE.

DEAR HELOISE: My dad, an 89-year-old Spanish American War veteran, is using a walker which the local American Legion was kind enough to lend us.

Someone had wrapped a piece of very soft plastic foam around the walker bar where you hold it, and secured that with strips of plastic tape.

It makes a comfortable, easily-grasped way to grip the walker and is so much softer and easier on the hands than the uncovered bar.

RELLA ROYER.

DEAR HELOISE: My husband is in construction work, and his jobs frequently take him away from home so he has to live out of a suitcase.

He complained of never being able to find clean handkerchiefs under all the things he piles in the bag.

Now, I put a clean handkerchief in a pocket of each pair of trousers as I iron them, and he always has one available when needed.

MRS. MOORE.

DEAR HELOISE: Here is a helpful hint for women who hate to wash floors because of the messy strings that come out of mops:

Tie a knot on the end of each individual string sometime while watching TV.

PATRICIA DUPLASE.

DEAR HELOISE: I open both ends of the plastic onion bags, split them down one side, and gather them with heavy thread to form a ball like the plastic pot scratchers you buy.

I use one for a scratcher and place one on my teen-ager's vanity for a hair roller stick pin holder.

Keeps the vanity neat and makes the stick pins easy to find.

DEAR HELOISE: Being the mother of two retarded children, I found a way to hold up a diaper on a child who walks long before he can be trained.

I use small suspenders that clamp on, putting them under the top shirt, but over the undershirt (so the suspenders won't cut into the shoulders). I clamp them on the diaper where the safety pins ordinarily would be used.

This way the diaper stays in place making it easier for the child to walk.

MRS. ROBERT LESCARBEAU.

Heloise welcomes all mail, especially household hints which she can pass on to readers as space permits. However, because of the tremendous volume of mail she receives daily, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will answer readers' questions in her column whenever possible.

Blast Marks 5th Anniversary Of Cuban Invasion

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The second unexplained bombing of a Cuban exile's home in as many weeks exploded on the fifth anniversary of the Bay of Pigs invasion.

'2 Or None,' Says Official Of 3 Dailies

NEW YORK (AP) — Matt Meyer, president of the corporation formed by three merging New York City newspapers, says "we will either publish our two daily papers on April 25, or we will publish no papers at all."

The corporation, the World Journal Tribune Inc., is to publish a morning paper, an afternoon paper and a Sunday paper. Meyer had this statement Sunday for the 10 newspaper unions, none of which has reached an agreement with the new corporation.

"The April 25th date for starting our new newspapers is firm, and unless the unions recognize that this calls for some production work early this week, a situation tantamount to a strike is inevitable...."

The Herald Tribune, a morning paper, is scheduled to be published next Monday, April 25, as the first edition of the new corporation.

The other two papers in the merger — the Journal-American and the World-Telegram & Sun — are scheduled to appear that afternoon combined as the World Journal. The Sunday editions of the Herald Tribune and the Journal-American are to be combined.

Following Meyer's statement, a spokesman for the new corporation explained that any delay in the start of the two papers would not delay the closing of the three newspapers now being published. "It means that the three separate corporations will be out of business on Sunday, the 24th," the spokesman said.

Spokesmen for the unions have said their members would not work without agreements with the new corporation. Contract negotiations are going on.

Allison reported for the playground committee that excavation for the new playground would begin in a week or 10 days. Mrs. Smith appointed an auditing committee of Mrs. Huston, Allison and Mrs. Ruby Plunkett.

Devotions were led by Mrs. John Spring. The pledge of allegiance was given and "The More We Get Together" was sung by the group.

The May 20 meeting will be in the form of a coverdish dinner with a speaker from the PTA headquarters. A white elephant sale also will be held then for the benefit of the Highlandtown Little League.

French Stand Rapped By U.S. NATO Aide

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harlan Cleveland, America's ambassador to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, says France has shown "undependability in peace and war" by wanting to pull out of NATO.

Cleveland, in an interview, called De Gaulle's action "a broad declaration of undependability in peace and war." He added that the defense of France's 14 NATO allies cannot rely significantly "on French cooperation now or French promises about the future."

Jury Deadlocks In New York's Voice Print Case

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (AP) — A mistrial has been declared in part of a trial in which voice prints were introduced as prosecution evidence.

Judge Robert Dempsy made the ruling after a Westchester County Court jury reported itself "hopelessly deadlocked" Saturday in the trial of George M. Straehle, a suspended New Rochelle policeman charged with perjury.

The voiceprint, which charts the human voice in map-like pictures called spectrographs, may some day rival the fingerprint as a means of identification, researchers say.

Straehle was accused of lying to a grand jury in denying that he had warned a gambler of an impending police raid.

prison camp and wrote a story that mentioned Sgt. Smith and his companions.

LATER, the Viet Cong released newsreel film that purported to show the Chester soldier and his companions in a jungle camp.

The former sergeant said he was given a "general" honorable discharge from the Army, but declined to elaborate on the specific type. His enlistment ran out in February 1964, about 10 months before he was released from the PW camp.

He explained that he was promoted to pay grade E5 while a prisoner and had received two years' back pay for the time spent as a prisoner.

Asked about the meals the Viet Cong served, he said: "They fed us enough to survive." But declined to comment on the quality.

He added that as a prisoner he was treated "fair."

Smith said he was debriefed for 21 days after arriving on Okinawa "and told what to say and what not to say." In reply to many questions, he refused to comment except to say the information was "classified."

Smith wore slacks and a casual shirt during the interview. He appeared to be tanned and in good health. Army authorities said he and McClure performed regular duties on Okinawa during the long investigation on the charges against them.

At the time of their release, the Viet Cong said the two prisoners were freed in recognition of anti-war demonstrations in the United States. Smith said he was "surprised" by the decision to release him and McClure.

AFTER arriving on Okinawa Smith and McClure were charged with "preparing, furnishing and delivering to the Viet Cong certain documents, statements and writings inimical to the interests of the United States."

It was this charge that was under investigation by military authorities while Smith and McClure remained on Okinawa. The Army finally announced that it would not try the men because of lack of evidence and permitted them to return to the U. S. for discharge.

Although he arrived home about 6 a. m. Saturday, Smith did not meet with newsmen until about 12 hours later. He ate a breakfast of ham and eggs prepared by his mother, then slept for many hours. He shaved and showered and put on civilian clothes before meeting with a large group of newsmen.

Smith called his mother Friday about 6 p. m. from Port Columbus Airport at Columbus.

HAPPY TO BE HOME. George E. Smith of Chester, a former Special Forces staff sergeant, embraced his mother, Mrs. Lucille Potts, as he talked with newsmen about his two years as a captive of the Viet Cong. Smith arrived home Saturday, discharged from the Army after military authorities decided not to press charges that he aided the enemy while in captivity.

Walkout Hits Space Center

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —Members of the International Union of Electrical Workers set up picket lines at all five entrances to this space center today, and early checks showed some construction workers were honoring them.

Except for some construction work on the Merritt Island moonport, the strike was not expected to affect activity here.

Most members of other industrial unions appeared to be ignoring the lines, which are the result of a wage dispute with United Technology Center (UTC).

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the Air Force hoped to have figures on the number of absentee workers later in the day.

UTC had offered a 19-cent increase, with no field rate. Negotiations are being conducted in California.

Crews Seek Blast Cause In 3 Deaths

TRENTON, Ga. (AP) — Rescue squad officials see little hope of determining what kind of gas set off a cave explosion which resulted in three deaths and a 10-hour ordeal for three young Boy Scouts.

"Something happened, this we know," said Gene Glaze of Chattanooga, a leader in the rescue effort. "There was an explosion, but I'm at a loss to say what caused it because the only test equipment we had was for carbon monoxide."

Those tests showed a concentration of "pure carbon monoxide" in a 40-foot-deep pit of Howards Cave, where two rescuers died. The third victim, a guide for Explorers Post 79 of Atlanta, was trapped with the three Scouts on a ledge above and behind the fumes.

There was some speculation that the explosion may have been caused by gasoline fumes which had seeped into the cave.

Glaze said he understood the cave had been posted several years ago because of "poisonous gas" within.

Rusty Mills, about 18, of Morrow, Ga., and Gernie Gilley, 19, of Trenton, died after rushing into the blanket of noxious gas in a rescue attempt shortly after the explosion about 12:30 p.m. Saturday. Phil Howell, 27, of Atlanta, the guide, apparently was also killed by the fumes.

Scientists Find Massive Nuclear Energy Particle

CHICAGO (AP) — The most massive nuclear particle yet known — nearly four times as massive as the proton — has been discovered by the Argonne National Laboratory scientists.

The team of physicists who made the discovery call the new particle N-asterisk-3245. They say N-asterisk-3245 is a mass of frozen energy — and the number "3245" stands for the amount of its energy, 3,245 million electron volts.

Its discoverers — Alan D. Krusch, John R. O'Fallon, Keith Ruddick and Steven Kormanos, all of the University of Michigan, and Lazarus G. Ratner of Argonne — published their discovery in Physical Review Letters, a scientific journal.

They said N-asterisk-3245 is a proton in an energized state. It belongs to a family of particles called nucleon resonances, they said.

Its life is only one-tenth thousandth of a millionth of a second. But the discoverers said this is 10 times longer than other particles in the nucleon resonance series. Nucleons are either protons — the positively charged particles which are a major component of an atom's nucleus — or neutrons, the other major components of the nucleus, which have no electric charge.

So far as is known, nucleon resonances do not exist in nature — only in atom smashers.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Stubborn Child Presents Problems

Stubbornness is most frequent in the age range between two and five. It usually arises when the parents don't distinguish between getting the little child to do what they wish him to do and keeping him from doing what they don't wish him to do. They give him commands in both situations. Then when the young child disobeys the parents proceed to punish him in either instance. These parents overlook the fact that a very young child, like all other living creatures, tends to do and do again what promises pleasure and to desist from doing what promises pain.

What parents should aim to do as far as possible is to make pleasant the many things they wish the child to do and painful only the few things they wish him never to do or do again.

WHILE this principle is sound with the child of any age, he may have enough experience by the time he is six, seven or older to profit from discomfort when he doesn't do what he is told to do. He may figure out that he can avoid unpleasantness by doing what he is commanded to do.

But if you make painful to the youngster three or four what you wish him to do, he may incline to refuse to do it, however much pain you give him; and be prepared in like refusals later. As a rule, except in routine matters, don't command your youngster under five or six to do this or that. Ask him and let him choose whether to accede or not. Then aim to be so skillful as to win him to choose to do it.

But if the young child is about to do something dangerous or destructive or anything you have already told him not to do, give him instant effective discomfort.

A MOTHER writes from Kansas:

"Our little boy, three, is very obstinate and if I could find a way to help him change rather than getting into a habit of being that way all his life, I would give most anything.

"For example: If I say, 'Lance, pick up your shoes,' he probably would not do it, but if I said, 'Lance, don't you pick up those shoes,' he would immediately do it. I'm afraid it is wrong to tell him in the negative to get him to do what you want him to do. Spanking and punishing seems to make him more stubborn."

My reply in part:
I hope you never make a request or command of your child when you want him to do the opposite of what you request or command. That would be the best possible way to make him a very stubborn child.

Why did you command a child, three to pick up his shoes? If, instead, you kindly and calmly requested him to pick them up he probably would have done so willingly.

SUPPOSE he wouldn't. He would not be disobeying you then. It was a request you made, not a command. Being an honest request, it implied that he could choose whether to accede to it or not, just as if you had made a request of your closest friend. If you made the request honestly you would have no occasion to say "You must" in case he didn't choose to pick up the shoes. You would have no occasion to feel angry at him or to punish him. Then the way would be open for you to practice him in cooperation.

But if your son had deliberately and angrily thrown his shoes across the floor or thrown them at you, you would have been wise to turn him over your knee and spank him soundly. How very different this would be from spanking him to make him pick up those shoes.

Let me entreat you that when you wish this child to do any special act, you ask him as persuasively as you can do it. But if you tell him to quit doing something you are sure he should never do, give him immediate safe body pain or some other effective discomfort.

Exceptions to the rule will be such acts as thumbsucking, nailbiting or habit spasms or for any act of his you can't check on constantly.

IN ROUTINES like going to bed, mere requests might not work. Let him get more information of what is done next and next. Also, when he must have put on him galoshes or a snowsuit. Just put them on with the least possible resistance and greatest dispatch.

We've been talking about such special matters as wishing him to hand you a book, open the door, or bring you a comb, as special situations when you are wise to request and not command a child under four, five or six. Of course, if we made a request of a child 12, 14, or 18, we should not shift it to a command but treat it honestly as a request also.

My bulletins "Stubbornness: Its Prevention and Correction," "Love and Restraint," and "How to Teach Child Meaning of No" may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

End Of The Line

NATRONA HEIGHTS, Pa. —For nearly 15 years, the job of newspaper carrier - salesman for the Valley Daily News has been handed down from one brother to another in the Stephen Fabry family. Now the youngest, Robert L. Fabry, 17, has given up his route to take another parttime job and prepare for college. The high school senior inherited the route from his older brother, Thomas, in 1960. Thomas had taken over in 1957 from the eldest brother, Stephen, who started serving customers in 1952.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Whenever I read something in your column that burns me up I promise myself I'll sit down and write a letter to straighten you out, but I have never gotten mad enough. Until now. Yesterday you went too far.

You told a girl she was a fool because she had given away her most precious gift — her virginity. How naive can you be? The gift of the flesh can be the emptiest and most meaningless gift of all. A girl can give her body and make no real commitment.

Any female can give her virginity, but the girl who can give her mind gives the most precious gift of all. I would like to hear your defense. If you can think of one. — A BELIEVER IN STRATIFIED LOVE.

Dear Love: You statement that any girl can give her virginity was a trifle incomplete. You should have added the word "once."

I hope you don't give too many fellows the gift of your mind, Lovey, because from the sound of your letter you don't have a great deal to spare.

Matriarch Speaks

Dear Ann: I was stopped cold by your answer to the man who wanted to know why American males in public life always want to be photographed with mom. He asked if America is really a matriarchy and if it is true that in most American families mom's voice is the one that is heard loudest and longest. You said, "Yes, it's true."

I'm not challenging your answer, Ann, but in the interest of fairness you might have explained why it's true.

I'm a wife who is head of the house and I'd give anything if I weren't. I have begged my husband to take an interest in the children but he refuses. He says that's my job.

He never has taken our sons fishing or to a baseball game or a football game. He insists that he goes strictly for business reasons and he must invite clients. I don't want to imply that my husband is mean to the children. He simply ignores them.

To a less-than-astute observer I probably look like a domineering female who has shoved her husband out of the driver's seat. The truth is simply that my husband is too selfish and too immature to accept his role as a father, so I must do his job.

So please, Ann, tell your readers not to leap to conclusions when they see an aggressive woman at the head of a family. It may well be that she had no choice. — PENNSYLVANIA MATRIARCH.

Dear Matriarch: Your letter was only one of the hundreds which expressed the same point of view. Thank you for showing the readers the other side of the coin—and a very real side it is, too.

Confidentially

TO MISS GREEN AROUND THE GILLS: A working girl does indeed have the right to tell a man that his cigar is making her sick. The air in an office belongs to everyone. Nobody has the right to foul it. And don't hide behind an anonymous letter either. Tell him.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Wise Wife Diets With Husband

My dietitian's cap is doffed to the wife in today's story. She proved herself to be a real helpmate.

"After years of eating and drinking anything and everything he wanted, my husband's health began to fail and we discovered he was diabetic. Ida Jean Kain

From then on it was strict dieting on his part and I decided to go on the diet with him. At one time he weighed 265 pounds.

"I am not in the habit of writing columnists. But after reading in your column about the 47-year-old who wonders if it is possible to reduce and restore her health, I decided to tell your readers of our experience.

"TWO YEARS ago I was 47 and weighed 228 pounds. I am 5' 8½" tall. I used a size 22½ pattern, making my own clothes so that I could stretch that size.

"This morning, two years later, my husband weighs 154 and I weigh 156 pounds. My goal is 150, at which time I expect to wear a size 16 dress.

"All my life I have been on the heavy side. At 16, when I graduated from high school, my dress size was an 18. That was the last size 18 I was able to get into.

"My husband and I did the reducing simply by eating more sensibly, cutting down the amounts of food consumed and staying away from heavy sweets. We just used common sense.

"Let me say that this past January was the only time I had any pills to help me reduce. The doctor thought I was in a slump and prescribed them for a few weeks.

"MY HEALTH has improved tremendously. My blood pressure, which was always too high, is now 130 over 80. The doctor is pleased with both of us, and so are we.

"I hear many compliments. Some people are a little pessimistic and warn that it isn't good to lose that much weight. I pay no attention to such talk. We are both in far better health than when we were heavy. I will never again let myself regain that weight.

"Tell your dieters that the hardest part is to make the start. Don't set a goal of trying to lose 25, 50 or 70 pounds. Try for five pounds. When the first five are gone, try for the next five. That's how I did it and I enjoyed it."

Cheers! Such good common sense is refreshing. Thank you for sharing.

Teen-Aged Husbands Given Advice-Be Friendly To Wife

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—For the teen-age boy who has just married, a counselor has a word of advice: "Now that you have married the girl, try to make friends with her."

Ben Ard, professor of counseling at San Francisco State College, made the suggestion Sunday at the closing of a two-day symposium on teen-age marriages and divorces.

Other speakers had said that about 40 per cent of today's brides are between 15 and 18 years old, and that 50 per cent of their marriages would end in divorce in five years.

Ard asked whether many of these teen marriages aren't essentially "child marriages," at least "in the sense of the partners' inability to accommodate each other." He asked, "Should much effort be made to hold together those marriages which show strain early in the marriage? Wouldn't we be better off to let them break early, before children come?"

"Isn't it better to accept the fact that all marriages cannot be expected to work out," he asked, "and accept divorce as necessary, natural and a good thing in some instances?"

"If we are to help the teen-age father," he said, "perhaps one of the most important ways would be to teach him how to be happy though married. If you feel that you are beginning to hate or become indifferent to your wife because you feel threatened by some aspect of your marriage, you often can look into your own thinking and solve the problem by changing yourself, instead of attempting to change your wife.

"To the young man who has married and would like to know some ways of helping the marriage prosper, I might also say: now that you have married the girl, try to make friends with her. Too many young men and women I have seen in my marriage counseling aren't really friends even though they are married."

Indiana Youth Killed

Leftists Ignore Singapore Visits By U.S. Soldiers

SINGAPORE (AP) — U.S. troops have landed in another Asian land, on a peaceful mission.

Despite fears of leftist protests, a trickle of American servicemen have been coming to Singapore since the government's recent decision to welcome about 80 a week for combat leaves from Viet Nam.

So far the program has hardly caused a ripple in this island state, which has the largest British garrison east of Suez.

The GIs arrive quietly in civilian clothes by commercial airliner and are hardly distinguishable from other Western tourists or residents in Singapore.

U.S. officials added Singapore to the list of rest and recreation centers for American forces in Viet Nam because the American troop build-up has taxed facilities in Bangkok, Tokyo, Hong Kong and other leave cities.

Some officials were concerned that the Communists might kick up demonstrations, but none has occurred.

Once Singapore's Premier Lee Kuan Yew condemned U.S. intervention, not only in South Viet Nam but in the whole of Southeast Asia. Last week, referring to the Viet Nam war, he said: "It is a crime against humanity. But to say who is committing the crime would be taking sides."

Dowry Is Important

RAJKOT, India (AP) — A dispute over payment of cash dowry turned a marriage party into a battleground in which two persons were seriously injured. Authorities said the bridegroom attacked the would-be father-in-law with a sword after a dispute erupted over dowry payment.

Decision Due On Need For Boost In Tax

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress resumes full activity today, still wondering whether it will have to face soon a request from President Johnson for an income tax increase.

Some administration supporters have suggested the decision whether to ask for a tax boost, to fight inflation and help finance the Viet Nam fighting, might be made late in April.

By then, reliable figures on the current income tax yield should be in, now that the deadline for filing has passed, and the closely watched cost of living statistics may give a hint whether price increases are leveling off.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk goes before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee today to outline the administration's $3.4-billion foreign aid request.

But there is not much immediate business before Congress as the House ends its Easter holiday. The Senate has been back since last Wednesday.

Committees will be busy in the House with President Johnson's proposals for expansion of the unemployment compensation system and in the Senate with appropriations.

The House Ways and Means Committee is about to decide how far along to go with the administration's proposals for covering millions more workers with unemployment insurance and extending the payments. The guessing is that it will send to the House legislation with some increases, but substantially short of the Johnson request.

Cuba Celebrates Invasion Victory

HAVANA (AP) — Communist Cuba marked the fifth anniversary of its Bay of Pigs victory Sunday with a demonstration of fire power by Soviet warplanes and tanks.

While Cubans watched from shore and on television, MIG15 and MIG21 jets teamed up with T55 tanks to sink a small unmanned freighter in Havana harbor.

A television announcer drummed at the claim that the MIG21 could outperform any warplane the United States possesses.

Radio Group Cancels Dances On Saturday

For lack of attendance, the Penova Citizens Radio Band Club voted Sunday to cancel its weekly Saturday dances at the club house on Route 45 north of Wellsville.

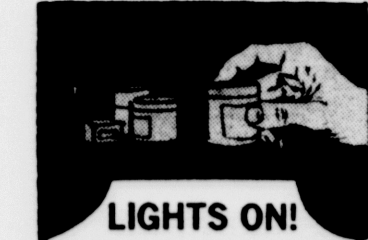

There were 27 members present. Three films provided by the Bell Telephone Co. were viewed and a white elephant sale was held.

Gene Jackson of East Liverpool was accepted as a new member. Chuck Bostwick of East Liverpool was a guest. The next meeting will be May 1 with Richard Green, president, presiding. Francis Wolfe, vice-president, conducted business Sunday.

Drug Industry Given Warning Over Abuses

NEW YORK (AP) — Unless abuses in the drug industry are stopped, more government control is inevitable, says Dr. James L. Goddard, commissioner of the Food and Drug Administration.

Dr. Goddard told a group of internists here that misleading advertising and the failure of doctors to closely supervise new drugs and to submit detailed reports are among the leading abuses.

The one time you should be afraid of the dark is when you're taking medicine. First, make sure you're taking the right medication, then follow directions on the bottle exactly. Our first concern is your good health. That's why Prescriptions are the heart of our business.

Ohio Association Names Boyd To Highway Group

Columbiana County Commissioner James W. Boyd of St. Clair Ave. Ext. has been named to the Highway Committee of the Ohio County Commissioners Association by Nelson Carmean, president.

The committee consists of 25 of the 264 county commissioners in the state and includes 15 Republicans and 10 Democrats. Fred Pratt (R) of Wood County is chairman.

The County Commissioners Association's main purpose is to assist counties with various problems, laying the groundwork for preparing any new legislation for the next General Assembly.

Boyd, a Republican, is completing his first four-year term and is seeking renomination in the May primary election.

A former lumber and saw mill operator, he is the only Republican on the county board of commissioners at present.

Boyd said he plans to seek action by the highway committee on efforts to widen roads where traffic curtails the normal flow of traffic.

Car Crash Hurts Mahoning Youth

A Youngstown teen-ager was injured seriously and his three companions were hurt less severely when their car overturned on County Rd. 429 two and nine-tenths miles south of Route 7, near Clarkson, at 12:15 a. m. today.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said the driver, Allen John Sovik, 18, suffered a collapsed lung and possible internal injuries. He underwent surgery this morning at Salem City Hospital. His condition was "critical."

Officers said he was northbound when he lost control of the car on a curve. It swerved off the left side and overturned. He was charged with reckless operation.

Three passengers all suffered multiple contusions, abrasions and lacerations. They were Dennis Cherpach, 19, Henry Cheetz, 18, and Edward Sosnosky, 18, all of Youngstown. They also were taken to Salem for treatment.

Douglas Stringer, 53, of N. Miami Beach, Fla., a trainer at Waterford Park Race Track, was injured when his car wrecked on Route 30 almost a mile west of Route 267 Saturday at 12:30 p. m.

OFFICERS said Stringer was westbound when his car went off the highway and struck three road markers. It then crossed over to the left side and rammed a utility pole. The vehicle continued, going over an embankment and striking a tree.

His 1965 sedan was demolished. Stringer was treated at City Hospital for a laceration of the nose and left ear.

Cars operated by Morris Dan Brown, 16, of Smiths Ferry R.D. 1 and Richard Edward Downard, 17, of Carroll Rd., R. D. 3, were involved in a minor collision Saturday at 5:30 p. m. on Route 170 in front of the Skyview Theater.

Downard started to make a right turn and his car was hit in the right side by Brown's, officers said.

CARS OPERATED by Guy Thomas, 80, of Salem and Mary A. Hartsough, 61, of 320 Alice St., East Palestine, were involved in a crash Saturday at 3:25 p. m. on County Rd. 440, seven-tenths a mile east of Columbiana.

Thomas lost control on a curve, went left of center and hit the oncoming vehicle. He was cited for driving left of center.

A passenger in the Hartsough car, Anna Calvin, 70, of 279 Alice St., East Palestine, and Alta Thomas, 60, of Salem, a passenger in the Thomas car, both complained of injuries but neither was treated.

A 1955 model car driven by Robert Franklin Taylor, 28, of Grant St., Lisbon, wrecked on Grant St. Ext. just outside the Lisbon corporation limits Sunday at 2:25 a. m.

2 Escapees Captured In Cleveland Robbery

CLEVELAND (AP) — Two men who walked away from the Grafton Prison Farm April 3 were arrested Sunday night shortly after the holdup of an East Side gas station, police said.

Police identified them as Garry L. Kemp, 30, of Mentor and William M. Rusnak, 25, of Cleveland.

Officers Arrest Driver In Chase

A Wellsville area motorist, cited following a lengthy high-speed chase early Sunday, is scheduled to receive a hearing Tuesday at 7 p. m. before Mayor William Daugherty of Wellsville on charges of speeding and reckless operation.

Police said the chase started at 19th St. and Clark Ave. Sunday at 10:48 a. m. when Patrolman Charles Amato attempted to halt Michael J. Rice of Wellsville R.D. 1.

Rice attempted to elude Amato, who chased him to Hammondsville, back on the Dry Run Rd. and onto the Old Irondale Rd.

Amato recognized Rice and radioed for aid from Deputy Sheriff Robert Beresford, who was in the area.

Beresford set up a road block and halted Rice near his home. At times the chase reached speeds of 100 miles an hour, Amato reported.

New Bridge Jammed Before It's Dedicated

FALL RIVER, Mass. (AP) — The new bridge was jammed impassable by a traffic jam before sets.

By the end of 1965, about 10 per cent of all homes in the country had color television sets.

it was even officially dedicated. Officials opened the new Braga Memorial Bridge across the Taunton River, then piled into cars for the ceremonial drive across. An antique auto at the head of the parade stalled at an approach, delaying the motorcade for about 15 minutes.

Defendant Fined, Jailed In Drunk Driving Charge

A North Side man was fined and jailed today in Municipal Court on a drunk driving charge while another driver was fined after pleading guilty to a reduced charge of being in physical control of an auto while intoxicated.

John M. Eccleston, 50, of 1030 Oak St. was fined $150 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail and had his driver's license suspended for 60 days after pleading guilty before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Eccleston was taken into custody at 2:06 a. m. Saturday on Riverview St. by Patrolman R.J. Brookes and Lt. William E. McDaniel.

Paul E. Brindley of 819 Lincoln Ave. drew a fine of $200 and costs after pleading guilty to the physical control charge.

Brindley had been charged with drunk driving after a wreck April 12 on W. 7th St., but the charge was withdrawn today by Patrolman W. F. Copestick, who signed the new affidavit.

Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark agreed with Brindley's counsel, Lawrence W. Smith Jr., that the original charge would have been difficult to prove. After entering the guilty plea, Smith also entered a plea in mitigation for his client.

FOUR OTHER drivers were fined and four forfeited bonds on other traffic charges and one case was continued.

Joseph W. Wolfe Jr. of 201 W. 3rd St. drew a fine of $10 and costs after pleading guilty to a charge of driving left of center within 100 feet of an intersection.

A charge of driving without an operator's license was dismissed. Wolfe had pleaded innocent. He was cited Saturday night in Drury Ln.

Robert V. Bontempt, 21, of 10 Bradshaw Ave. and Glenn E. McGarry of Echo Dell Rd. were fined $10 and costs each after pleading guilty to speeding 50 miles an hour in the 35-mile zone on St. Clair Ave. Both were cited at 11:15 a. m. Friday.

Richard D. Williams of 1925 Smithfield St. was given a suspended $10 fine and ordered to pay court costs on a charge of driving on expired auto plates. He was cited at 11 a. m. Saturday in Diamond Alley and told police he was en route to purchase new tags.

Sentencing of Nathaniel Brown of 2020 Hazel Alley on a charge of driving without an operator's permit was continued until April 28 to allow the defendant to secure a new license.

BROWN pleaded guilty but produced a Georgia license which Judge Samuel M. Chertoff indicated was not valid in Ohio. The judge said the license was one issued to Brown in recognition of his military service and was valid for life.

Forfeiting $17.50 bonds were Peter D. McMichael of Clinton R. D. 1, cited at 4:51 a. m. Saturday for crashing the traffic light at 3rd and Market Sts.; William Alvy Kile of Cleveland, charged with speeding 68 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on Route 30 Friday night; Peter Tarbuck of 1239 Oakwood Ave., cited for crashing a traffic light at Pennsylvania Ave. and Boyce St.; and Clarence Spann of 2003 Danbury Ave., Wellsville, accused of speeding 70 in a 50-mile zone Thursday night on Route 30.

A hearing is scheduled Tuesday morning for Ruth E. Calhoun of rear 205 Beechwood St., cited at 5:05 p. m. Sunday for making an illegal turn at E. 5th and Washington Sts.

Hearings are scheduled Friday for George Butler of 1001 Oak St., and Gary Allen Bookman, 21, of R. D. 2, both cited Friday night on Route 30 by the State Highway Patrol on speeding charges.

Butler was charged with speeding 65 miles an hour and Bookman for traveling 75 in 50-mile zones.

4 Firemen Enter Field In Job Test

Only four firemen filed applications before the deadline Saturday to take a promotional examination for assistant fire chief which the Municipal Civil Service Commission will give next Monday night.

Turning in the applications were Clarence Snediker, Frank Shone, Don Hancock and James Curry.

The test for the job which pays $475 monthly plus longevity will be given at 7 p. m. Monday to fill the vacancy created when Alfred Van Dyne won a promotional test to succeed the late Charles Bryan as chief.

The fireman scoring the top grade on the test will be certified to Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey for appointment. In a promotional exam, only the man with the highest grade is certified for promotion.

Former Boston Celtics' star Bob Cousy holds the National Basketball Association championship playoff record of most games played. He competed in 109, five more than teammate Tom Heinsohn.

Police Schools Urged By Attorney General

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe proposed today a system of regional law enforcement academies to give police officers up-to-date training under a new state program.

He said the permanent academies would utilize physical facilities of state colleges and universities, with professional police instructors being provided by the Peace Officer Training Council. The students would be veteran police officers, not trainees.

Fatally Ill May Realize Time Of Death's Arrival

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — A Duke University psychiatrist says he has found evidence that the fatally ill may have a premonition of death.

Dr. Adrian Verwoerd theorizes these patients, subconsciously, are aware of when their deaths will occur.

His conclusion is based on a year-long study involving 30 persons, 22 of whom died.

A notion that hope is important in prolonging life for the fatally ill, established in another study, led Dr. Verwoerd to suspect a direct relationship between survival time and how far a person looks ahead.

The patients were asked if they lived on a day-to-day basis, or if they looked ahead one week, one month or as much as six to 12 months. They were not asked when they thought they would die.

"The ones who died early by and large had said they looked ahead one week or a month," he reported. "And those who died later said they had looked ahead six to 12 months."

The study group had an average age of 48 years. All the patients were aware of varying degrees that their illnesses were serious or even critical.

An estimated 20,000 new automobile mechanics are required every year to replace those who retire, die or are promoted, the Automobile Manufacturer's Association discloses.

People In News

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Film stars George Peppard and Elizabeth Ashley were married Sunday at the Bel-Air Hotel.

Peppard, 33, and Miss Ashley, 24, met during the filming of "The Carpetbaggers." Miss Ashley previously starred on Broadway in "Barefoot in the Park" and "Take Her, She's Mine."

The ceremony was performed by Dr. Robert Shaffer of the Church of the Divine Truth, Los Angeles.

NEW YORK (AP) — Francis Cardinal Spellman, who will be 77 May 4, said Sunday he felt "a bit worn out" but promised to "keep going as long as I can."

The cardinal spoke at a communion breakfast launching the archdiocese's 47th annual Catholic charities drive, which seeks $3.7 million to aid needy people.

MOSCOW (AP) — Col. Rudolph Abel, Soviet spy exchanged for U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers in 1962, said on Moscow radio Sunday a good intelligence agent must have "clean hands, a cool head and a warm heart."

Abel, 63, claimed again that he had flushed a decoding device and a tape recording down a toilet and disposed of a piece of film — all under the noses of FBI agents. The FBI has denied it.

Abel served four years and eight months of a 30-year sentence before he was exchanged for Powers.

MOSCOW (AP) — Nikita S. Khrushchev was 72 years old Sunday. The former Soviet premier and Communist party leader, who was unseated in October 1964, was believed to have spent the day with his family at a country home near Moscow.

Angry Thief Damages Cincinnati Restaurant

CINCINNATI (AP) — There's a thief with a temper loose in the town.

Police said a burglar pried the combination lock off the safe at Tad's Steak House early Sunday. When he couldn't open the safe, the thief apparently got angry, ripped up the downtown restaurant's licenses and slashed the seats of 18 padded chairs before leaving.

Rights Group Protests Negro School Project

CINCINNATI (AP) — Local civil rights groups held a March and rally Sunday to protest the building of a new school they say will have an almost all-Negro enrollment.

Police estimated 650 persons took part in the march to the Burton School site in North Avondale, but newsmen's estimates ran to more than a thousand.

There is an average of one passenger car for every 2.4 persons in the nation. In the 1970s, the Automobile Manufacturers' Association forecasts, there will be a ratio of one car for every two persons — 100 million cars for 200 million inhabitants.

Grange Votes Aid To 2 Units

The Highlandtown Grange voted to donate $5 each to the Little League and the Babe Ruth League when it met Thursday night.

During business presided over by Ray Leatherberry, master, the group decided to purchase new locks and handles for the windows. The master was given permission to purchase a steel box to store the sashes in.

Mrs. Catherine Leatherberry and Mrs. Janet Taggart are co-chairmen for the annual minstrel April 29. The home economics chairman and a special committee was appointed to sell lunch at the minstrel.

New draw drapes for the hall have been hung and the Juvenile Grange is purchasing drapes for the basement. Degree practice for inspection at the April 28 meeting was held instead of the lecture hour.

Some 50 attended. The lunch committee was Mrs. Esther Smith, Mrs. Helen Rose, Mrs. Kay Hays and Mrs. Betty Thorn.

The program for the Juvenile Grange was in charge of Kendra Rose and was comprised of: "The Daffodils," Margie Francis; "The Cloud," Lynette Hays, and jokes, Kay McKenzie and Carol Leatherberry.

Von Braun Says Satellites Could Study Population

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP) — Space scientist Dr. Werner von Braun says satellites may be used to count noses as well as radiation and other more complicated things in the future.

Speaking to the League of Municipalities convention Sunday night, Von Braun said satellites also could be used to spot crop diseases and aid in water management.

He said the satellites would use man's habitations, recreational areas and industrial projects to determine population levels.

These space findings would be correlated with intensive earth-based samplings of selected areas.

Von Braun, director of the George C. Marshall Space Flight Center here, told 600 Alabama municipal officials that the center definitely will meet commitments to provide the hardware to put man on the moon by the end of the decade.

Rubbish Fire Quelled Near Calcutta School

A rubbish fire at the rear of the Calcutta School was quelled Sunday night by Calcutta firemen, who said the blaze apparently was ignited by two boys seen running from the site.

Firemen said the blaze could have seriously damaged or destroyed the school, and warned that parents of any youths found involved would be held responsible.

Eight firemen and a tanker truck were summoned to the school at 8:15.

Sen. Pastore Urges New Look At Viet Nam

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., says it is time to reconsider U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

Because of unrest there, we should "dispassionately and solemnly review our posture," he said to the annual spring luncheon conference of the Tri-State Region United Jewish Appeal Sunday.

Former Pennsylvania governor David L. Lawrence was awarded a plaque at the luncheon on behalf of the State of Israel for his work as honorary chairman of the state United Jewish Appeal.

Asia, which has 56 per cent of the world's population, has only 31 per cent of its arable land.

Singers Say Goodbye

Colorful Concert Brings Career Of 'Met' To Close

NEW YORK (AP) — Some of the world's greatest singers said goodbye to the old Metropolitan Opera House at an exciting, 5½ hour farewell concert Saturday night the best way they know — by singing their very best.

The Golden Horseshoe will hear opera no more; in three weeks it will be torn down for an office building. The Met opens its season next September in a new $45-million building at Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts.

The singers at the gala made sure the farewell night was a blaze of vocal glory.

Leontyne Price, singing from "Il Trovatore," has seldom if ever sounded richer.

Zinka Milanov, who has sung 453 performances in 28 seasons, and was making her own farewell appearance, sounded as if she could be a long way from retirement. She sang the final duet from "Andrea Chenier" with Richard Tucker. They were called back for six bows — more than anybody else.

The audience, which had paid up to $200 a ticket, a total of $292,000, was even more talkative at intermissions and more elaborately garbed and glittering than at a Met opening night. Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, whose two grandfathers had helped found the Met, was there with his wife. She was wearing a diamond and ruby tiara which had belonged to the Empress Elizabeth of Austria.

Conductor Leopold Stokowski, a spotlight shining on his white hair, made an impassioned plea to save the old Met, just after he had conducted the opening selection of the evening, the entrance of the guests — the Met chorus — from "Tannhauser."

Turning to face the audience, the 84-year-old Stokowski said, "It is a great pleasure to bring music to an audience of true lovers of music such as you are and in such a beautiful house. I ask you very much to save this magnificent building."

Then 32 former Met soloists were introduced, took bows and sat on the stage until the first intermission. The program ended, at 1:25 a.m., with the audience standing, all the soloists and chorus on stage, holding hands, and everybody singing "Auld Lang Syne."

Repair Of Valley Flashings Practical And Inexpensive

By Douglas Tuomey
 In every spot where the direction of a roof changes or where an addition or an ell is added to the house, there will be a valley flashing. These flashings receive their name from the fact that they are literally in a valley between two sloping roof sides. Placed in this position, they never dry out as well as other flashings and usually catch plenty of leaves and other wind-blown debris which keeps them damp. As a result, valley flashings rust or corrode out faster than others.

Because the shingles of the roof cover the edges of a valley flashing, there is considerable shingle ripping to be done when repairs are in order. The resultant cost is high, but there is an excellent method for avoiding this expenditure. And it is the kind of job the average home owner could well do himself.

Cut eight-inch squares out of thin copper or aluminum sheet and bend them from corner to corner. The angle at which they should be bent must follow the angle presented by the two slopes of the joining roofs.

Next, these scales are slipped up under the shingles, starting at the top and following down, with each added scale overlapping by the one above it. The net result is a completely covered flashing and the necessity of ripping out portions of the roof is avoided.

Some houses will have valley flashings which are narrow and with shingles practically meeting where the roofs join. In this case six-inch scales will be in order, and of course will cost much less. As a rule no nailing or cementing will be required if the scales are well jammed up under the shingles.

Q.—Please tell me how I can clean my tarnished silverware?

A.—Place some boiling water in a large aluminum pan, and add a tablespoon of baking soda to each quart of the water. Place your silverware in this and let stand for about 15 minutes. Then rinse with hot water and dry. Do not, however, use this method for "antiqued" silverware!

Q.—How can I clean my all-aluminum luggage?

A.—Usually this can be cleaned just by wiping over it with a damp cloth. Hardware stores have a special preparation that removes stains from aluminum—and these, instead of home experimenting, are much preferred. Metal-care is dealt with in my new household-hints book.

★ ★ ★ Tips Given On Proper Use

By ANDY LANG
 AP Newsfeatures

It never is an easy matter to advise anyone by long distance exactly how to repair the damaged surface of a wooden table, especially if it is a fine piece of furniture.

Only by a personal inspection can it be determined whether the mar itself can be removed or whether a complete refinishing of the table top is advisable. This advice must be based on several factors, not the least of which is an examination of the depth of the scar to see whether it is in the finish only or has penetrated into the wood.

IN THE case of a very tiny scratch, it is sometimes better to disguise it rather than repair it. It certainly is a lot easier. Most hardware stores carry pencil-like sticks which do an effective job of hiding small scratches. In many cases, rubbing the scratch with the meat of a walnut will hide it. In others, touching it up with a little shellac, applied with the tip of an artist's brush, will make the scratch difficult to spot.

Even a dab of iodine, applied carefully with a toothpick, will disguise a scratch if the finish of the wood is similar in color to that of the iodine.

The small scratches do not, therefore, present too much of a problem, from a decision standpoint. Neither do the large-scale scars, which quite obviously call for a removal of the old finish, a sanding of the surface and two or three applications of a new finishing material.

What causes most people to wonder and worry is when a table top has suffered a wide scratch, a sizable gouge or a cigarette burn.

Should a repair be made? Should you do it yourself or have it done professionally? Should the finish be completely removed and a new one applied?

If you decide to tackle it yourself, you might just as well try a repair, since if it doesn't work you can always go ahead with a refinishing job. In this connection, not too many persons know about a shellac stick, perhaps because not all hardware stores carry it.

Each stick, about the size of a very fat pencil, is made of hardened shellac. A well-stocked store will carry sticks of many colors. In trying to match the color of the finish, remember that shellac in stick form looks darker than when it is melted and spread out thinly.

THE SHELLAC stick is melted with a palette knife which has been heated in an alcohol flame (an alcohol lamp usually is available where you purchase the stick).

When the heated blade is placed against a portion of the shellac stick, some of the shellac adheres to the blade, which is then quickly drawn across the crack or other open area in the wood. This is done as many times as necessary to fill the opening or bring the patch a tiny bit above the surrounding surface.

When the shellac is hard and has been smoothed with fine steel wool or garnet paper, the area is carefully finished with a thin film of varnish, repeating if necessary.

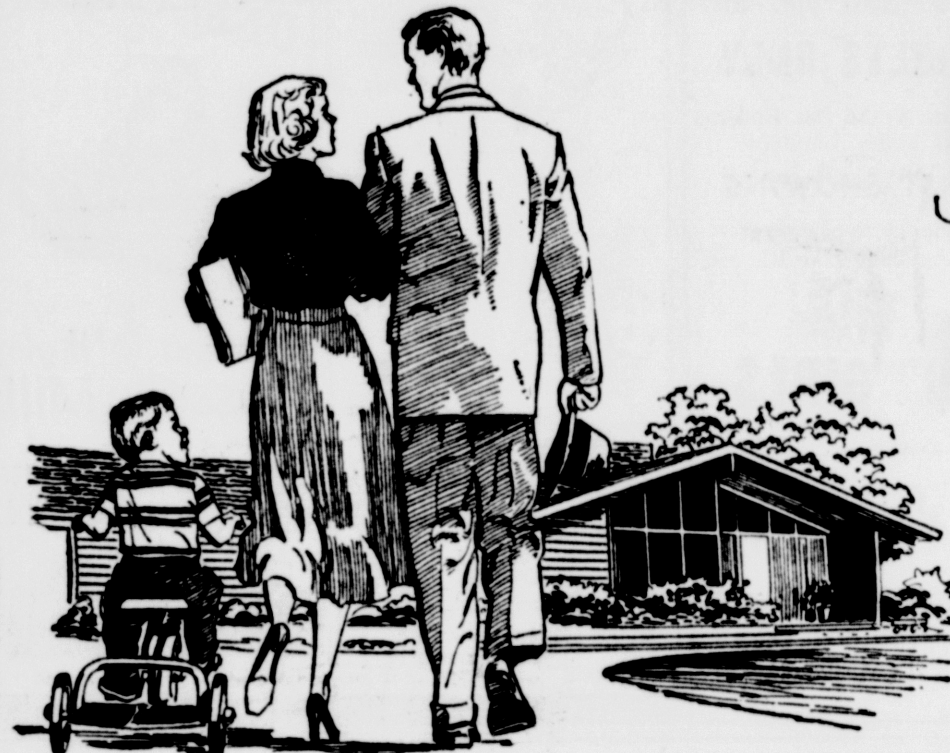

Because it takes a little time to get the knack of heating the knife properly and drawing the melted shellac across the marred wood, practice it a few times on scrap wood before making an actual repair.

ABERDEEN, Scotland — Top executives of an enterprising Scottish shipyard are going to night school to learn German to help them in their export drive.

John Wright, managing director of Hall, Russell, an Aberdeen shipyard, has by his globe-trotting efforts brought his firm some two million pounds ($6 million) worth of export orders from West Germany alone.

But language difficulties were making life all the harder, he told reporters. Now Wright and 18 of his top executives go to school twice a week to pick up conversational German.

Here's How To Build Ventilated Patio Roof

Building a patio roof, to add beauty and comfort to the home, can be fun and easy to do.

All it requires is ordinary hand tools — and thorough planning before you begin.

The first and most important consideration is assuring maximum comfort. Any single-layer roof needs proper ventilation to provide coolness and control condensation.

Constructing a translucent patio or porch can be mostly a one-man job, completed in a weekend. A wife's helping hand is valued at some stages of the project, and certainly helps make the work go faster.

Considering how to properly ventilate any roof, first examine the basic steps in constructing the roof.

FIRST STEP is to install the front header support posts. The average patio needs but two. These can be secured with angle irons or a rod in the cement footing. Atop these, a four by four, used as the front header, is secured with framing anchors.

Two, working together in securing the headers, is better than one. The length of the headers make it unwieldy for one man alone. The back header is a two-by-six and is fastened to the house wall.

As a first step in insuring proper ventilation, both headers should be raised to the greatest height possible while allowing for recommended pitch.

Once the headers are installed, the man of the house can start putting in the two-by-fours as rafters.

Meanwhile, the lady of the house can (if she will) be cutting translucent fiberglass roofing panels to size. This material is available in sheets and in rolls and is easily cut with an ordinary hand saw.

Finally, cross braces and moulding strips, which also serve to provide a handsome lattice effect, complete the installation of supporting lumber. All lumber may be purchased precut, if desired, to speed the job and eliminate much of the sawing and cutting.

AT THIS point, you are ready to install the fiberglass roof panels. These are lapped over the rafters — but note that it is here that you take the important step for ventilation in a normal installation.

Allow from four to six feet of space between the house wall and the roof panels. The panels should be that distance from the building and from six to eight feet below the roof overhang. It is this separation that makes for the air sweep from under the patio roof.

Panels, overlapped one corrugation where they meet, should be nailed to the framework with aluminum weather-proof nails having a built-in washer.

Holes for nails should be pre-drilled in panels to avoid shock marks around each nail. An ordinary drill with a one-eighth inch bit is used.

And so, with a hammer, saw, drill and nails, the patio roof is completed. For a final professional and decorative touch, nail a valance or fascia board to the front end of the rafters.

South Korea's image as a barren, war-torn land is gradually being erased. Last year 33,000 foreign visitors entered the country, a threefold increase of the total in 1961.

Steel Demand Leveling Off

CLEVELAND (AP) — Despite reports of brisker business by some Midwest mills, steel demand appears to be leveling off on a high plateau, Steel Magazine said today.

The metal working weekly losing some of the urgency that prevailed the last couple of months. Steel added that market analysts say it was inevitable that the upturn would slow in April "with second quarter needs pretty well covered."

Steel products in strongest demand continue to be reinforcing bare, wide plates, coated sheets, structural, railroad items and alloys, the magazine said. Except for a dip in automobile business because of model changeovers, marketmen anticipate "only moderate summer slackening," Steel said.

"Some market observers think that makes for the air sweep from under the patio roof."

Panels, overlapped one corrugation where they meet, should be nailed to the framework with aluminum weather-proof nails having a built-in washer.

Holes for nails should be pre-drilled in panels to avoid shock marks around each nail. An ordinary drill with a one-eighth inch bit is used.

Grandma Cyclist Warns Of 'Nuts' On Highways

CLEVELAND (AP) — V-A-Room! Hey, who was that? You got to be putting me on. Nobody's 62-year-old grandmother wears black stretch pants, a crash helmet and tools around in a motorcycle.

Nobody, except Mrs. Wilson F. Ulmer of Twinsburg, a grandmother of three who has been riding motorcycles since 1929.

"Even used to ride in the winter," she said Sunday as she adjusted the strap on that white crash helmet with the red "V" on it. Her black leather jacket was already fastened and her pink lipstick was just so.

She was all set to hop on one of the motorcycles being inspected during Cycle Safety Sunday. "Tell us about riding motorcycles," Mrs. Ulmer was asked. "It's fun, that's what it's all about," she said with the tight chin strap pinching the words. "But there's one nut on them that you have to watch out for," she said.

"Yes, what nut is that?" "The nut that is sitting in the seat driving it," she said, adding that motorcycles are not for the reckless or the irresponsible.

Mrs. Ulmer's husband runs a garage in Twinsburg (Summit County) and her son, Wilson G. 30, of Macedonia, cycles as does her daughter, Mrs. Juanita Holiday, also of Macedonia. Mrs. Holiday shops with her motorcycle.

"Wilson went for his first ride when he was 6-months-old," she said.

Globetrotters Ace Joins 'Classic'

The Harlem Globetrotters will be represented in the East Liverpool Basketball Classic by Connie Hawkins, another of the top stars, who will descend on Memorial Auditorium Friday night.

Hawkins, is one of several new names to be added to the growing list of college and pro players, who will play in the first Classic.

THE 6-8 Hawkins has just completed another whirlwind tour with the Globetrotters. He was the star of the Harlem Five and at one time was a former member of the Pittsburgh Rens before the American Professional Basketball League folded several years ago.

Hawkins will be playing with the Hot Dog Shoppe entry which already has a roster of Jim and Julius McCoy, Willie Somerset, Walt Mangham and Ed Fleming all top college players a few years ago now living in the Pittsburgh area and playing in the Eastern Pro League.

Somerset was an All-American choice at Duquesne in the 1964-65 season after setting an all-time school record. At 5-10, Somerset was one of the smallest players in the country and holds an individual Duquesne mark of 47 points in one game.

HAWKINS joins such talent as

WILLIE SOMERSET
Set For Classic Friday.

Dave Bing, the All-American from Syracuse University who averaged over 30 points per game and led his team in rebounding this past season.

Another name added to the list over the weekend was Bob Aston, the 6-10 Toledo University standout, who was one of the top scorers and rebounders in the Mid-American Conference this past season. Aston will be playing for the Mid-Town Hotel of Midland.

THE OTHER teams in the tournament are Hays Oil, which lists ex-Ohio State stars and Johnson Pontiac which includes a collection of Youngstown U. and Maryland U. stars.

The tournament committee of Bob Wycoff, James (Sonny) Migliore and Homer (Tuffy) McVay, announced starting time Friday would be 7 p. m. with doors to be open at 6 p. m.

THE LIST of six topnotch college officials was completed with Bill (Hooks) Westland of Washington, Pa., and Red Angelo of Youngstown. Westland worked the Pennsylvania Class B championship game and the WPIAL 'A' final this last month while Angelo was on the Ohio Class A final.

Other officials include Red Mihalik, the foremost basketball official in the country, plus Eddie Plank of Irwin, Pa., who was with Westland on the WPIAL final game and referees college games in the Pittsburgh area. Bill Vinovich Sr. and Bill Vinovich Jr. both of Midland and well known officials in Western Pennsylvania circles round out the officials list.

Tickets are $1.25 if purchased in advance or $1.50 at the gate with general admission $1 and children 12 and under will be admitted for 50 cents.

Koufax Goes 6 Frames In 5-0 Win

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sandy Koufax has only one problem: He's in California, but his arm's still in Florida. Making his second start at Los Angeles Sunday, Koufax struggled through six shutout innings in the Dodgers' 5-0 victory over the Chicago Cubs and then admitted that his arm still was at the Florida exhibition stage of the season.

"Right now I'm about that stage in spring training where we would just be beginning to play games," said the Dodger Dandy, who held out for 32 days of the exhibition season. "Normally I would be trying for three innings at this stage."

But Koufax, who received the Cy Young Award before the game for being baseball's best pitcher last year, indicated he was satisfied with his progress.

"My intention was to go nine innings," he said, "and I'd be dumb enough to try it if they let me. I thought I had pretty good stuff at times. At least I could throw this time."

Last time was his first start, against Houston, and the $130,000 pitcher didn't survive the fourth inning. Against the Cubs he seemed to have difficulty getting loose at the start of each inning but kept five hits scattered while striking out six and allowing one walk.

After the sixth inning, Dodger Manager Walt Alston lifted his tiring ace and Bob Miller finished up with three innings of one-hit pitching while Koufax went to the dressing room and began to soak his arthritic left elbow in ice.

Elsewhere, the San Francisco Giants won their fifth game in six starts by beating Houston 3-

The Giants snapped a 1-1 tie against the Astros in the seventh on singles by Tom Haller, Tito Fuentes and winning pitcher

Bob Bolin off Barry Latman, brought their record to 2-1—the first time in their five-year history they have had a winning record at any point in the season.

Felipe Alou and Lee Thomas homered for the Braves but the Mets came out on top by scoring in the ninth without a hit. That

Bill Murphy walked to open the ninth for the Mets and raced to third when Thomas picked up Larry Bearnarth's bunt and threw it into center field. Reliever Billy O'Dell then walked Ed Bressoud and Ron Swoboda, forcing in the tie breaking run. The Pirates, who had lost 18 in a row to the Cardinals at Pittsburgh's Forbes Field, made it two in a row over St. Louis when Bill Mazeroski lofted a sacrifice fly with the base loaded in the ninth.

Rich Allen's two-run homer in the first inning gave the Phillies all the runs they needed as Chris Short kept 10 Cincinnati hits well scattered.

The victory ended Joe Nuxhall's eight-year jinx over the Phillies. The Reds' starter hadn't lost at Philadelphia's Connie Mack Stadium since 1958 and had beaten the Phillies seven straight times.

Tiant's 5-0 Shutout Keeps Tribe Only Unbeaten Team

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Luis Tiant didn't eat any potatoes this winter, so now he's in the gravy and the opposition's in the soup.

Tiant had the Boston Red Sox eating out of his hand Sunday, scattering seven hits as Cleveland won 6-0 and remained the only unbeaten team in the majors.

The Cuban right-hander thus became the first pitcher to post a shutout in the American League this season and exhibited signs that he is ready to return to his 1964 rookie form after a disappointing season last year.

The difference in Tiant apparently stems from his ability to become a hungry pitcher instead of a fat one during the off-season.

Indians' Manager Birdie Tebbets took one look at Tiant when he reported to camp this spring and exclaimed, "Holy smokes! How about that?"

Tiant weighed 181 pounds, 20 less than last year, and ordered pants with a size 32 waist instead of the 36 he wore in 1965.

"I feel good, very good," the 25-year-old Tiant told everyone at camp. "I throw two, maybe three times a week in Mexico City, but mostly run and not eat. No work at regular job, but work all the time on getting in good condition. I think I pitch better because I lose all the weight."

"I stop eating greasy foods. No chocolate, no potatoes, no bread, no beans... Well, sometimes — maybe once a week — I eat the beans, but not much."

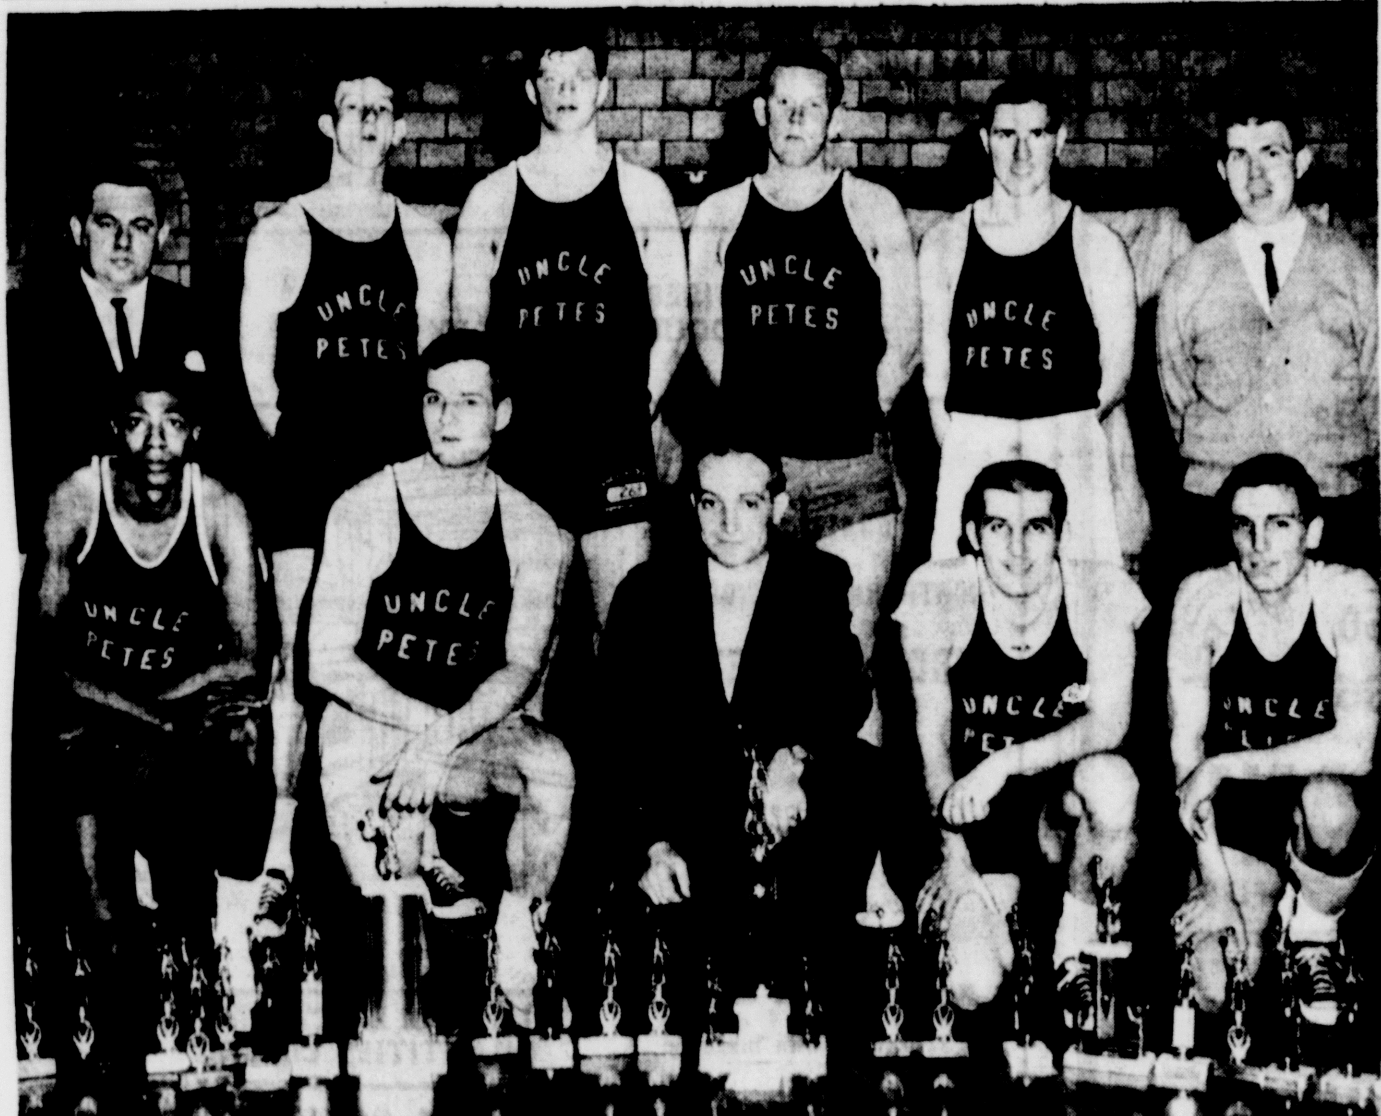

In his first year — or more correctly first half-year since he didn't join Cleveland until the middle of the season — Tiant won 10 games and lost four. Then in 1965 he dipped to 11-11. In other American League games Washington whipped previously unbeaten Detroit 10-4, Baltimore edged New York 5-4 and Chicago blanked Kansas City 5-0 in the first game of a doubleheader. The second game was washed out by rain as was the California-Minnesota game. A grand slam homer by Washington pinch hitter Bob Chance highlighted a six-run outburst in the seventh inning that stopped the Tigers' five-game winning streak. Ken Mullen contributed another homer to the rally.

Uncle Pete's Snags First Tourney Crown In Wellsville Jaycee Event

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Uncle Pete's of Wellsville, a semi-finalist on many occasions stepped into the winner's circle for the first time Saturday night to capture the Wellsville Jaycee Basketball Tournament at Beacom Memorial Gym.

The Wellsville entry won their first crown in impressive fashion with an overwhelming 115-80 victory at the expense of Weirton DAV.

Weirton was the team which supplied the biggest upset of the week-long tournament by surprising last year's champion Auto Body Supply in the quarterfinals.

VINCE GILES, who was later voted the outstanding player of the championship game, turned in one of his finest hours. The ex-Wellsville and Adrian College standout pitched in 43 points in the final game to account for the highest total by a player in any single game of the tournament.

Giles' 43 topped the 41 scored in a first round game by his teammate John Hummell, the Steubenville College star.

ent in the third period to hold an 88-57 margin after three quarters.

Giles made 13 field goals and hit an uncanny 17 of 21 foul shots for hits total.

Hummell followed Giles in the scoring department with 21 while Dick Sower of Marietta College scored 16 and was outstanding with his floor work.

WEIRTON was paced by Al Woodbury, a Weir High product, who tallied 16 in a losing battle. In the consolation game, Beall Battery of Salem edged Dreamland of Martins Ferry, 84-79.

Jim Meissner, ex-Salem High star, wound up with 26 points while Dick Rudibaugh, who formerly starred at Beaver Local added 19.

Dreamland was paced by Floyd Shuler of West Liberty who gunned in 30 points while Rich Saffield added 22.

HUMMELL was voted by the tournament selection board as the most valuable player in the 1966 event while Giles was named the outstanding player in the final game.

Hummell also walked off with the high point and foul shooting honors. The 6-2 cager wound up with 119 points in four games and converted 23 of 27 fouls.

HUMMELL and Giles led a 12-man all-tournament team which also included Steve Baldwin and Dick Sower of Uncle Pates, Dick Pannett, Ollie Freeland and Willie Tucker of Weirton DAV, Floyd Shuler and Rich Saffield of Dreamland, Jim Meissner and Dick Rudibaugh of Beall Battery and John Watson of East Liverpool Friendly Bowling.

Frank Fusco served as tournament director while Ralph Fusco, president of the Wellsville Jaycees, presented individual and team trophies following the title game.

Our little airline no longer is.

We can still remember the days when we would say, "Fly Lake Central Airlines," and people would ask, "Lake who?"

They're gone, those days.

Today we'll fly you at least one hundred miles an hour faster than we've ever flown you before. On new French prop-jet Nords, and Convairs converted to prop-jets.

Next year we'll fly you twice as fast on our all-jet jets.

You can expect more one-stop flights on old multi-stop routes, too. And cocktails and snacks on every flight.

On the ground or in the air, something somewhere has changed at Lake Central.

If nothing else, it's the whole concept of "little."

Little? We're spending $20 million in the next three years to make a First Class flight out of every one of our flights.

Not too bad for a former Little Leaguer.

The Clown

Reporter Spends Day In Circus

By LOUISE LEVITT
NEW YORK (AP) — I put on my baggy pants, smeared my face with greasepaint and practiced making faces before a mirror. I thought I looked funny. Funny and sad.

But I didn't really feel like a clown until the boy, a little boy with laughing eyes and a shy smile, put aside his cotton candy and waved at me with what must have been all his heart.

Then, I realized, I was no longer me. I was a clown, and that's a magic personality you can assume only when you believe very, very hard.

"Circuses are like no other entertainment," Jackie Cooper, a dwarf clown, said as we watched the throngs of men, women and children pour into Madison Square Garden. "People are always half-happy before they get here."

Michael Polakows, a clown named Coco, helped arrange my outfit: droopy checked trousers, a dark striped polo shirt and an oversized coat. The big sad eyes were my own.

I was an "August" clown. Coco explained, a clown with flesh-colored makeup. He's supposed to contrast with the "white face" clown, the buffoon of the troupe.

I became dizzy with advice, words which really didn't take on meaning. I found, until I stepped into that vast arena and blurs became laughing faces.

"If you're funny, you're born with it. It's God's gift, and if you find it and you're awfully lucky..."

"You must love children, because if you don't, they know it and pull you apart." Standing in the wings was like standing between two worlds. Back stage, the circus was business. On stage, it was a wonderland made real because the audience wanted to believe it was real.

Then someone pushed into the ring, whispering: "We've got a full house today — 18,000 people."

That didn't help any, and I stumbled, blushed and remembered the blush couldn't be seen. The faces were blurs, stretching off into the vast recesses of the arena like so many trees in a forest.

Then I saw the little boy, only a few feet away. He handed his cotton candy to his mother and waved. I waved back and he laughed.

And suddenly it wasn't so hard. I continued around the great ring, my eyes picking the children's faces from the great blur and watching each smile become a laugh as I waved.

They weren't laughing because of my baggy pants and my goofy makeup. I kept telling myself. They were laughing, and smiling, because I was helping them to believe in a world void of sadness — and they're as sure of that world as they are of peppermint candy and Santa Claus.

Sex Research Published After 11-Year Lab Study

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — An 11-year, detailed study of the reactions of 694 men and women to sexual stimulation was published today.

The pathfinding research at Washington University in St. Louis appears destined to be as widely discussed as the Kinsey reports of a generation ago.

But unlike the work of Dr. Alfred C. Kinsey who gathered his data mainly through interviews, the new book involves laboratory observations of humans undergoing sexual experiences.

The 365-page book, "Human Sexual Response," was prepared by Dr. William H. Masters, a gynecologist, and his assistant, Virginia Johnson, a psychologist.

Masters said the book was "written for the medical and behavioral professions and will not be advertised for sale outside those professions."

The St. Louis investigators did most of their experiments under the auspices of Washington University's Medical School where Masters is associate professor of gynecology and obstetrics. Since January 1964 they have continued the work in a non-profit organization, the Reproductive Biology Research Foundation.

In the preface to the book, the authors ask: "Why must science and scientists continue to be governed by fear — fear of public opinion, fear of social consequence, fear of religious intolerance, fear of political pressure, and above all, fear of bigotry and prejudice — as much within as without the professional world?"

"There is no man or woman who does not face in his or her lifetime the concerns of sexual tensions."

"Human Sexual Response" is the first of two books they plan that deal with sex and the human body. The second, "Human Sexual Inadequacy," is due for completion and publication sometime in 1968.

"After the sensationalism is over," Masters said of the unprecedented first book, "it will have to stand or fall on its merits."

President Nears End Of 'Vacation'

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson neared the end of his springtime holiday in Texas today.

Johnson, who flew to his LBJ Ranch April 7 for Easter, was expected to return to Washington late tonight with Mrs. Johnson, who will entertain 3,000 Democratic women at a White House tea Tuesday.

There was a chance the President might decide to spend another day or two on his home acres—particularly if the weather took a turn for the better. It was wet and cloudy over most of the central Texas hill country Sunday.

1.3 Million Voters Due For Primary In Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Secretary of State Ted W. Brown estimated today that 1,310,797 voters would turn out for Ohio's May 3 primary election.

The forecast was about 25,000 votes under the comparable 1962 non-presidential primary turnout. The 1962 vote was 1,335,747.

Brown said a sizeable voter registration holdover from the 1964 presidential election has fallen off because many voters have not voted since then.

Ohio statutes provide for cancellation of registrations if voters do not mark ballots over a period of two calendar years.

Natives Prefer Britain

To Loney Ocean Isle
CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Thirty-six natives of Tristan da Cunha have decided that life is better in Britain than on their lonely island in the South Atlantic.

Eight families of islanders sailed on the liner Cape Town Castle Sunday seeking better opportunities for work and better schooling for their children. Their departure left about 200 persons on the rocky island far out in the Atlantic.

Junior Editors Quiz on EYES

QUESTION: Can you tell a person's feelings by looking into their eyes?

ANSWER: We often speak of eyes as "The windows of the soul." If a person is surprised, we say, "His eyes are like saucers" and if angry, "His eyes are pinpoints of hate." As scientists studied eyes, they found that the black pupil becomes larger in the dark to admit more light. In bright light, it becomes smaller to admit less. This led many to discard the idea that emotions might make eye pupils become larger. More recent studies, however, show that the pupil does actually dilate if something pleasant or interesting is being looked at (B), and grows smaller if what the person is looking at is unpleasant (A).

This means that you might get at least some inkling of how a person is feeling by looking into his eyes, but it probably would be only a slight suggestion. Lucy is registering anger in the top picture, and a happy expression below. True, the iris in the bottom position is slightly bigger; but it is the eyebrow lifting up and the lower eyelid bunching up which make her smile, even if you can't see the lips. In the top picture it is the eyebrow, drawn sharply down, which gives her an angry look.

FOR YOU TO DO: Look into a mirror and make a very angry expression. It is like the diagram to left, with straight line over iris. Then give a big grin and see how the lower lid moves up like the lower diagram.

Bernice Kellums of Fort Collins, Colo., wins today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Dictionary plus $10 cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Monday, April 18, the 108th day of 1966. There are 257 days left in the year.
Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1775, Paul Revere made his famous ride from Charlestown to Lexington to warn the colonists of the approach of British troops from Boston.
On this date
In 1431, Joan of Arc was pronounced guilty of blasphemy.
In 1906, an earthquake and fire destroyed two-thirds of the city of San Francisco with a loss of life officially listed as 452.
In 1944, Russian troops recaptured the Crimean town of Balaklava, scene of the famous "Charge of the Light Brigade."

In 1946, the League of Nations came to an official end with a meeting in Geneva.
Five years ago—Premier Nikita Khrushchev charged that the Bay of Pigs invaders of Cuba had been trained, equipped and armed in the United States and he said Russia would help Cuba in beating back the armed attack.
One year ago—One student was fatally injured, several hundred policemen and demonstrators were hurt and more than 1,500 arrested in riots in South Korea.

Assembly Set To Meet In Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG (AP) — The 1966 General Assembly, still immersed in a regular fiscal meeting and an eight-point special session, faced a record-breaking third special session today.

It also marks the sixth extraordinary session called by Gov. Scranton in his four years in office, another state record.

Last Friday the governor proclaimed a special session to convene today to deal with six subjects. They are:

Increasing the penalty for rape.

Providing a state-related status for the University of Pittsburgh.

Highway beautification and scenic improvement. Provisions also would be made to implement the Federal Highway Beautification Act.

Emphasizing community level care in mental health and retardation treatment.

Providing for advance payments of subsidies to school districts.

Liberalizing the program of state-insured loans to college students.

Elsewhere on Capitol Hill, the joint House-Senate committee considering consumer credit protection legislation resumed its public hearing. The first hearing was held Wednesday.

Rep. Ronald G. Lench, chairman of the special House committee investigating the state police, said he would have the panel review its decision to cite former Commissioner E. Wilson Purdy for contempt.

Purdy's attorneys had written Lench, saying that since Purdy is no longer with the state police he is prepared to answer any questions. Previously, the panel had sought to further question Purdy on alleged wire-tapping.

The previous record for special sessions in one year was two.

Leary Faces New Narcotic Law Charges

MILLBROOK, N.Y. (AP) — Dr. Timothy Leary, dismissed by Harvard University after experimenting with hallucinatory drugs — and convicted last month in Texas for transporting marijuana — faces a new narcotics charge.

A raiding party entered Leary's rented estate Sunday and seized what Dutchess County Dist. Atty John R. Hellmar called "a suspected quantity of marijuana." Charged along with Leary, with possession of narcotics were Stewart F. Swain, 46, Blue Jay, Calif., his wife, Nancy, 36, and Barry Kaplan, 20, New York City.

The four pleaded innocent before County Judge Raymond Baratta in Poughkeepsie and were released on bail pending a hearing Tuesday.

Leary, 46, free on bail pending appeal of a 30-year prison term stemming from a federal narcotics conviction at Laredo, Tex., said he was "outraged at his invasion of my home."

Leary said he was unaware of the presence of narcotics in the sprawling 64-room mansion he used in 1963 in the name of the Castalia Foundation with himself as director.

Sheriff Lawrence M. Quinlan, who led the raiding party with Heilman, said: "They (about 30 men and women) were lying around on mattresses on the floor, and some were playing music with guitars."

Leary, who describes himself as a Hindu, said the foundation was devoted to "scientific and religious research." He said the persons at the 85-year-old estate over the weekend were there to help plan a summer camp that the foundation hopes to conduct on consciousness — expanding techniques.

Twenty states and the District of Columbia conduct automobile safety inspection programs.
